Ousted Levee Board Inactive

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Continued operation of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District appeared under question today amid legal problems growing out of the sentencing Tuesday of four levee district trustees on charges of misconduct in office—a sentence that included forfeiture of office by all four trustees.

The sentence was pronounced in Circuit Court at Belleville by Associate Judge Alvin Mayes, who fined each of the trustees $250 on each of five counts for a total of $1,250.

He also placed each trustee on probation for three years—although no sentence was announced—and provided that all four trustees shall forfeit their offices.

Plans for an immediate appeal to the Fifth District Appellate Court were announced by members of the levee board.

Plan No Official Acts

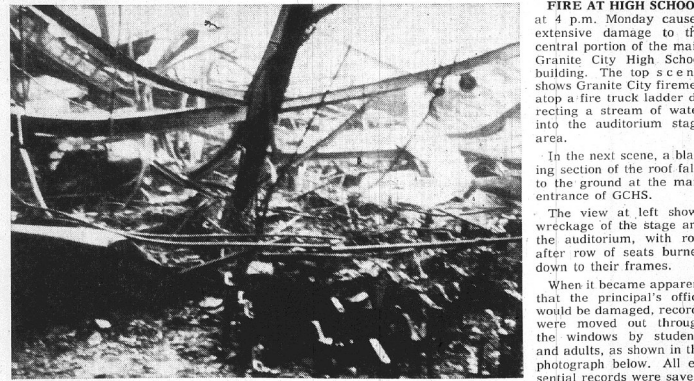

At the same time, said they will take no further official actions as levee district board members until the knotty legal problem of who is now administering the levee district can be solved.

The sentences were pronounced on Levee Board Members Morris Campbell, board president, and Lawrence Tolar, George Duff and William "Mike" Ebersold. Campbell, Tolar and Duff are of East St. Louis, serving as St. Clair County representatives on the board, while Ebersold is the sole Madison County representative. Madison County's other levee board member, Joseph Grant of Granite City, died last spring.

Trial by Judge

Conviction of the four board trustees by Judge Mayes, without a jury, followed their indictment by a St. Clair County grand jury earlier this year on eight counts alleging misconduct in office for payment of attorney fees in excess of the $3,500 per year allowed by statute, and for awarding contracts to clean and repair two riverfront tunnels without calling for competitive bids.

GCHS May Open Monday; $800,000 Fire Was Set

Granite City High School students may return to classes Monday to end the school closing caused by fire that destroyed the high school auditorium building at a loss of $800,000 to $1 million. School officials said reopening of the school will depend upon clearing debris and removal of the building wall so as not to endanger students when they return. The work is underway. There will be no school tomorrow.

The fire, which school and fire officials are convinced was started by an arsonist, swept through the auditorium building Monday afternoon in a raging blaze that several times threatened to spread to other units of the high school complex.

The fire was discovered at 3:55 p.m. and spread so rapidly it was out of control before firemen arrived. Classes had been dismissed a half hour before the fire occurred, but some teachers and students were attending meetings, band practice or other events. School administrators and teachers evacuated the building as soon as the alarm was sounded. There were no injuries.

Youths Questioned

Police and fire officials have questioned several youths in connection with the origin of the fire, but no arrests have been made and no one is being held.

Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman said the fire started in a pile of papers stored at the rear of the auditorium stage and said it spread up a curtain on the stage to the ceiling.

Flames engulfed the entire roof area of the building within 15 minutes, Hileman said.

Hileman said he believed the "only way the fire could have started was by arson," and added that a match or cigarette lighter could have been used to set the paper and stage equipment on fire.

The fire broke through the roof of the building at 5 p.m. Flames leaped 200 feet into the air and stabbed at the rooftops of adjoining buildings as firemen concentrated streams of water at each side of the building to prevent a breakthrough into adjoining sections of the school complex.

More than 100 firemen from Granite City, Mitchell, Madison, Venice, Long Lake and the Army Depot were called to fight the fire.

Typewriters Destroyed

The 900-seat auditorium was entirely destroyed along with two typing classrooms that contained 70 electric typewriters, a storage room for supplies and a boys' washroom.

Part of the office and a girl's restroom were damaged, but all

State Marks 152nd Anniversary Today

Illinois observed its 152nd anniversary in ceremonies today in the rotunda of the old state capitol building in Springfield.

William K. Alderfer, state historian, arranged a parade of 21 figures in the history of the state, and the Wendell Phillips High School chorus of Chicago sang.

Historical leaders saluted by Alderfer included Abraham Lincoln, Elijah Lovejoy, Stephen A. Douglas, Ulysses S. Grant, James Addams, John Deere, Adlai Stevenson II, Everett M. Dirksen, Nathaniel Pope, Daniel Pope Cook, Shadrach Bond, Jean Baptiste DuSable and Jesse B. Thomas.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and Samuel W. Witter, president of the 1970 Constitutional Convention, were to speak with a state birthday cake served to visitors by the Springfield Junior League.

Illinois is the 21st of the 50 states, having been admitted in 1818. Madison County traces its history even longer, to 1812.

County Schools Get $93,629 Title II Funds

A total of $93,629.50 in Title II funds has been allotted to Madison County schools, including cooperating parochial schools, to provide for library and audio-visual materials during this year, it was reported by Wilbur R. Trimpe, county superintendent of schools.

Included was $23,105.75 for the Granite City School District, $4,148.30 for the Madison District and $750 for the Venice District.

26 DAYS WITHOUT A TRAFFIC FATALITY

96 Traffic Deaths

Commenting on the comparison between deaths from the three killer diseases and deaths from traffic accidents, Dr. Stoneman cited the situation in Madison County as typical. In 1969, this county had 538 deaths from heart disease, 362 from cancer and 230 from stroke. Traffic deaths in the same period totaled 12.

The experience is similar for the other counties in this geographical area.

In the southern Illinois region as a whole, figures show that about 14 died of heart disease for each person killed in traffic accident; more than five died from cancer and about four from stroke.

Translated into percentages, this indicates that heart disease accounted for 43.2% of the region's total deaths, cancer 16% and stroke 11.5%.

Corresponding percentages for Madison County are 42.3% for heart disease, 16.3% for cancer and 10.4% for stroke.

Dr. Stoneman noted the wide variation in death rate per 100,000 population, adding that it suggested existence of variable factors influencing the disease.

Low Death Rates Here

In the 10 counties with the highest number of heart disease deaths, estimated death rate was 1,177.1 per 100,000; in the 10 counties with the lowest heart mortality, there were only 283.5 deaths per 100,000.

The difference between the high and low in cancer deaths was 251.4 per 100,000.

Madison County was among the 10 lowest in cancer and

Relatively Few Deaths in This County from Cancer and Strokes

The "big three" killers, heart disease, cancer and stroke, in fiscal 1969 claimed the lives of 10,001 persons in southern Illinois, the region falling within the responsibility of the Bi-State Regional Medical Program. The figure includes 1,530 in Madison County, today's announcement said.

Federally-financed but regionally-governed, the program was established by Congress to influence patient care—particularly in the three diseases—in order to improve the quality and availability of care and, if possible at the same time reduce its cost.

New figures for the year ending July 1969 represent a slight increase from last year's total of 14,958. The figures were extracted for the region by Bi-State RMP from compilations of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

These deaths, said Dr. William Stoneman, Bi-State RMP coordinator, constitute about 71% or almost three-fourths of all deaths in the southern Illinois counties under Bi-State RMP supervision. Regional totals in each disease were: heart disease 11,925, cancer 4,499 and stroke 3,187.

"Despite the high tolls," Dr. Stoneman said, "there is much more public concern about, for example, traffic deaths and about deaths from the major killing diseases. Though traffic deaths are, indeed, tragic, they account for only 3.2% of the region's total deaths."

Govnor's Wife Gets No. 1 Auto License

The state's number 1 automobile license plate has been assigned to Illinois' First Lady, Mrs. Richard B. Ogilvie, wife of the governor.

Secretary of State John W. Lewis, in making the announcement said, "I think it is fitting and proper that Mrs. Ogilvie should be given the number 1 automobile license plate, as First Lady of the state. Gov. Ogilvie has official plate number 1 assigned to him."

Secretary Lewis told reporters that the prestige plate had for many years been assigned to the Bishop of Chicago. In late 1969 the Bishop of the Catholic diocese determined that he did not choose to have the license number reassigned as provided by state statute.

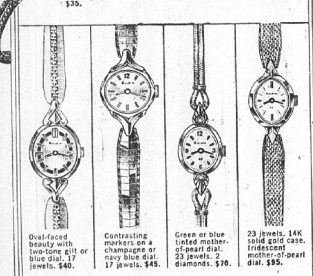

The number 1 automobile license plate went unassigned through 1970 and on Sept. 29 the late Paul Powell, former Secretary of State, assumed assignment of the plate for 1971. Only a few days thereafter Powell died and the number 1 license plate reverted to the state and again became available for a new assignment.

Chouteau Island Proposed As Site of State Park

A plan to establish a state park on Chouteau Island has been proposed to the Illinois Department of Conservation by State Senator Merrill Otwell (R-Edwardsville) who said such an acquisition could be made in addition to development of the Horseshoe Lake area.

In announcing the proposal, Senator Otwell said: "All area planning agencies have cited the necessity for more parkland in the area. New emphasis on acquiring parkland by the Illinois Department of Conservation focuses on the same needs. New facilities offered by a Horseshoe Lake Park will still fall far short of ideal, and, in fact, development of the island would be a more logical and appropriate use of the land."

"Local conditions are such that Chouteau Island, roughly 1500 acres at the western edge of Madison county may ideally satisfy the need and more space. Chouteau Island has traditionally been an agricultural area, featuring productive alluvial soils. The island levels are protecting the bulk of this island were intended for nothing more than agricultural production."

"It has provided living space for a few non-agricultural families in recent years, but remains, for the most part, agricultural. A landfill occupies a mid-section, and new transmission towers from a St. Louis radio station have been erected."

Granite City's water intake plant is located on the northern end of the island. The Corps of Engineers controls a large part of the island at the northern end, outside levee protection.

"Since the early '50s, the construction of the barge canal (redefining the boundaries of the island as the canal followed a 'slough'), has augmented the flood control and drainage problems. Water surrounds the island now on all sides and the seepage problem in wet seasons has been increased greatly. Adding to the problem, the canal construction removed a great deal of area from the levee district, leaving a smaller area to support a larger problem."

"As the agricultural advantage of the rich bottomland soils has been increasingly overcome with fertilizers, the flood and water problems have assumed greater importance. Agriculture, generally is becoming a more marginal enterprise, and all things considered, it is becoming increasingly difficult to profitably operate farms on the island."

"The island has other problems: at night, it is a 'no-man's land.' Despite having controlled access of the bridges, law enforcement is virtually nonexistent."

The Interstate 270 Bridge is one of the most important entrances to Illinois - a real 'front door.' Yet, immediately greeting our visitors, is a landfill."

"So the case is built for serious consideration for sale of the island as a park."

"An open-space, 'primitive' variety, leaving nature to re-establish an ecological balance that is attractive and inexpensive to maintain... yet a great spot for camping and scouting... as open green space, as the two rapidly urbanizing areas of Missouri and Illinois. The uses could complement other facilities in the area."

The cost at this point could be very minimal. No other area where equivalent acreage could be obtained at such moderate cost. A good part is available without charge from the Federal Government. "The access would be controlled absolutely, without fences."

Classical Music Show Presented by GC Man

A new classical music series, programmed by Dennis R. Durbin of Granite City and heard each Sunday evening over WEIC-FM, Charleston, is drawing approving comments from listeners throughout east-central Illinois.

"Music of the Masters" is presented from 8 to 11:30 p.m. each Sunday over the Charleston radio station in response to many requests from listeners. William F. Russell, WEIC general manager reported, Durbin chooses the music and comments available without charge from the selections during the show.

A son of Mrs. Vyvienne Durbin, 1644 Venice Ave., Durbin has served as band and choral director at Humboldt Junior High School the past three years. He received his degree in Music Education from the University of Illinois and was graduated in 1964 from Granite City High School.

He said he hoped to interest all schools in the Charleston area in the program as part of music education. The programs are listed in advance and many schools opt from elementary through the college level refer their students to the series, it was learned.

Higher Board Cuts SIU-SW Capital Budget by 66%

A $9.2 million capital improvement suggestion the board should prepare for an influx of students in junior colleges once the limit is placed on enrollment at four-year institutions.

The study group recommended that junior college enrollment be limited to 6,000 full-time students at each institution. Once enrollment reaches 4,000 to 5,000, the committee recommended opening a second campus.

The committee also proposed that state universities devise ways to counteract depersonalization on the campuses and recommended a careful study of the advantages of decentralization as a possible solution.

Continued financial support by the state to private colleges and universities so they can grow at a nominal rate, also was recommended in the committee's report.

In conjunction with the budget recommendations, the Board of Higher Education proposed that Illinois' public colleges and universities set maximum enrollment of 17,500 at student populations through 1976.

The board's study committee recommended a maximum student enrollment of 17,500 at SIU - Southwestern campus by 1976, representing an increase of only 300 students over the 1970 student body of 13,700.

The committee's report included the desirable size, capacity and growth rate for Illinois institutions of higher education and recommended a re-evaluation of enrollment planning levels in 1972.

St. Louis to Consider Airport Authority Bill

St. Louis Mayor A. M. C. Vance is urging the Board of Aldermen tomorrow to approve a bill authorizing St. Louis to join Illinois in building and operating a $350 million major airport in the Illinois sector of the metropolitan area.

Under the proposed bill, the city of St. Louis would name members to the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority which has been created by the state of Illinois, but which now has only Illinois members.

Cervantes said he sees no chance of financial help from St. Louis County or the State of Missouri that would enable St. Louis to build a new airport in Missouri. He said the necessary land for such an airport is on the Illinois side of the river.

The state of Illinois has promised funds to build the proposed major airport which should be completed in about ten years, Cervantes said.

State Minimum Wage Proposed in Bill

Bills proposing a state labor relations board for public employees and for a minimum wage law in Illinois were among bills pre-filed in the Illinois legislature this week.

Under the proposed bills, the minimum wage for all workers in the state would be $1.50 an hour, while public employees would be granted the right to bargain collectively.

Illinois does not now have either a public employee bargaining requirement nor a minimum wage.

Rep. Thomas J. Hanahan (D - McHenry) proposed the three-man board to supervise elections for recognition of bargaining units and for mediation of disputes.

Health, Safety Codes Topic of Public Hearings

Public hearings of the Subcommittee on Industrial Health and Safety will be held at SIU-SW Campus, in the Mississippi Room of the University Center beginning at 10 a.m. Dec. 15 and 16, according to State Rep. Leland Kennedy, Alton legislator, who is a member of the Subcommittee.

The Subcommittee is part of the Illinois Commission on Labor Laws established in the last session of the Legislature to examine all laws pertaining to Labor - Management Relations in the State of Illinois and to recommend changes that would modernize, update, and codify such laws.

The Subcommittee on Industrial Health and Safety will hear testimony concerning those laws pertaining to the health and safety of workers. Hearings have been held in Chicago, Rockford, and Peoria.

Those wishing to testify are asked, where possible, to furnish written copies of their testimony without copies is permitted. Testimony will be limited to 15 minutes and if a special time is desired, such can be arranged by contacting Rep. Kennedy, 929 Washington, Alton, Illinois; Telephone: 618-462-4313.

Also serving on the Subcommittee on Health and Safety from this area is Buddy Davis, representative of United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO. Davis and Kennedy emphasized that union representatives, management representatives, workers, safety and health specialists are especially encouraged to testify at the two-day hearings.

State Spending Triples in Decade

Expenditures by the Illinois state government have more than tripled during the past decade, State Auditor of Public Accounts Michael J. Howlett said Wednesday.

"We were appropriating less than $15 billion a year for all state government when I came into office in 1961, and we are spending about $3 billion this year," Howlett, chief state fiscal officer, said at a luncheon of the Young Men's Club of the Chicago Union League Club.

"At the federal level, we are spending more than $200 billion a year. Government is an enormous industry, bigger than any other."

"We often think of Uncle Sam in Washington as THE government. But state and local governments are growing faster than federal government," Howlett noted.

"In my work as auditor of public accounts, I keep track of the state government's money coming and going. No money may be paid out of the state treasury without a warrant from the auditor."

"A warrant of the auditor is the same as a check, although it is drawn on the state treasury instead of a bank."

"Because state government has been growing, the work of my office has been growing."

7 Million State Checks

"In fiscal 1961, my office wrote 4½ million checks. Last year, with fewer people doing the work, we wrote 6½ million. This year, we will write more than seven million."

"But the increased volume is only a part of the story. The legislature has given my office new duties during the last ten years, such as the withholding of group insurance premiums, union dues, savings bond payments, Social Security, employee association dues, credit union payments, state income tax payments and United Fund contributions from the warrants of state employees.

"When I began my administration, the only deductions from payroll checks were for federal income tax and state retirement fund payments."

Cemetery Supervision

"The legislature also has transferred to my office a unit of ten employees with responsibility for administration of the Cemetery Care Act. Under this law, I must supervise the perpetual care funds held by privately operated cemeteries in Illinois. We license nearly one thousand cemeteries, which hold about $40 million in trust."

"The legislature also has given my office responsibility for reimbursement to counties for a portion of probation officers' salaries; and of assistant states attorneys' salaries in counties where there are state institutions of higher learning, state penal institutions and state mental health institutions. Despite these and several other additional duties, we have a smaller work force today than the 217 on the payroll during the last half of October 1960, just before I was first elected."

"We currently have about 190 full-time employees, although the figure changes slightly from month to month."

"When I took over the office, I engaged a management consultant firm to help me find new ways to reduce payroll and save the taxpayers' money. Over a period of months, we were successful in reducing the work force to 172 employees, although it has increased since because of new duties given us by the legislature."

"At the end of my first full biennium in office, I returned to the treasury more than $800,000 which was saved for the taxpayers from the budget voted by the legislature to operate this office."

Local Government Audits

"During the last 10 years, I have been successful in persuading the legislature to tighten up the auditing of local governments. As a result, Illinois is now recognized as the best audited of the 50 states."

"Since 1953, Illinois cities and villages have been audited by licensed professional accountants periodically under the Municipal Audit Law. The audit reports are submitted to my office and made available for public inspection."

"In my first biennium, I began campaigning for extension of mandatory auditing provisions to other local government bodies."

"We obtained a County Auditing Law in 1963, and a Public Money Accounting Law in 1967, which extends to township and special districts the mandatory auditing requirements made binding earlier on municipalities."

Voluntary Assistance

"I have been successful in bringing into the government outstanding businessmen, accountants, lawyers and public servants to serve—without compensation—on five different boards which help me administer state laws," Howlett noted.

"They are the Municipal Audit Advisory Board, the County Audit Advisory Board, the Public Money Accounting Advisory Board, the Cemetery Care Advisory Board, and the Funeral and Burial Trust Advisory Board."

"If we hope to keep taxes down we must all understand that (1) whenever we ask for a new service the people must pay for it and (2) the people must take an active interest in their government or special interests will monopolize the ears of their elected representatives."

"The rising cost of state government should be cause for concern. State government is outstripping every other kind of government and our own state of Illinois leads them all."

"Illinois taxes and appropriations have risen steadily for years, but recently they have taken off like a skyrocket."

Need Management Techniques

"Businessmen like yourselves should be willing to serve in government. To a large extent the responsibility of government has been abdicated to lawyers."

"The lawyers are qualified and do a good job, but government needs the management techniques, the record keeping, the accountability that are secand nature to businessmen.

"We need in government, at every level, the business know-how which you can offer. Conservation of the taxpayers' money is what we need in Illinois government right now. I hope you can help us conserve."

Air Pollution Old Problem, Speaker Tells Rotarians

In 61 AD, Seneca, a Roman statesman, complained about the problems of air pollution in the Senate of ancient Rome, according to Wendell E. Miller, Decatur, Ill., Director of Environmental Affairs for the Illinois Power Co. at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club in the Madison Recreation Center.

"Autos account for 90% of the pollution today and public utilities about 14%, Miller said. "Smoke from stacks at utility plants are more on the public mind however, as they are more visible to everyone. The Illinois Power Co. has been using mechanical precipitators which are about 85% effective against particles in the smoke. However, they are spending $21 million during the next three years on new electrostatic equipment that will be 99% effective against particulates in the smoke," Miller said.

Director Miller called attention to new developments at the Wood River plant which he said of slides enabling the Madison Rotarians to view the anti-pollution improvements already in service at the Wood River plant, and the new equipment now being installed.

Although we face many types of environmental problems such as water pollution, noise and overcrowding, the Illinois Power Co. is concentrating on improving the air pollution problem at this time," Miller continued. The Illinois Power Co. is one of the leading industries that have developed specific plans to control pollution.

"All new installations must pass regulations and requirements from an aesthetic standpoint before they are built. New systems are being installed to curb the sulphur dioxide problem also in Wood River plant which will be functioning in January."

According to Miller there is considerable doubt that sulphur dioxide is harmful to humans in the quantity that is in the air. "Coal will be a major fuel for some time because in Illinois alone there is 70 billion tons under the ground, which is enough for the next 1,000 years," Miller said.

"New government regulations concerning pollution will be forthcoming in the near future and Illinois Power will be ready to meet them completely," he said.

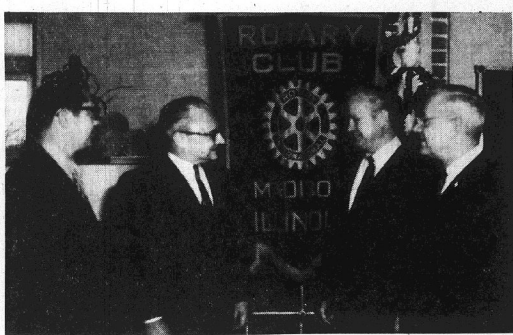

Rotarians also discussed the new Explorer post which is being formed. A meeting of the committee is scheduled Dec. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Madison City hall to finalize organization plans.

Carl Mathias and Dave Norton from the Granite City Rotary club attended at the Madison meeting.

Democrats Endorse State Constitution

Endorsements by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago and a special committee set up by the Democratic party to study the proposed Illinois Constitution were issued this week. The proposed state charter goes before the voters on Tuesday, Dec. 15.

In line with Mayor Daley's recommendations, which it adopted without exception, the committee favored retention of the election of judges and the continuation of multiple member districts of the state House of Representatives.

The committee, headed by State Rep. Paul F. Elward, (D-Chicago) supported extending the right to vote to 18-year-olds, but avoided the issue of abolishing the death penalty.

Daley told the committee that "despite some serious drawbacks, the constitution deserves the full support of the Democratic party."

The Granite City Jayvee team also was victorious by a 45 to 15 count, gaining nine falls.

The Warriors travel to Northwest High in St. Louis County, defending Missouri state champions, at 7 p.m. Friday and will be out to avenge a loss to the team last year. It was one of two dual meet defeats for Coach Schmitt's squad which won 18 in addition to five tournament championships.

Warrior action will continue at 1 p.m. Saturday at Bloomington in a triangular meet which will include Decatur Eisenhower.

Graville Eleven Rates 16th Among Small High Schools

NCAA Soccer Champ Bid Begins Here

The 1970 National Collegiate Athletic Association's soccer championship semi-finals and final will be played on Southern Illinois University - Southern Illinois State College field today and Saturday.

In today's semi-final games, the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles played Howard University of Washington, D.C., at 11 a.m., while the defending national NCAA champions, St. Louis University, will take on Hartwick College of Oneonta, N. Y., starting at 1:30 p.m.

Saturday's championship game will be at 1:30 p.m. here. Coach Harry Keough's St. Louis U. Kickers advanced with coach Bob Guelker's SIU Cougars Saturday. Hartwick College made it with a 4-3 triumph over Harvard U., and UCLA took a 3-1 decision over Denver University. Both games were played last Saturday.

Howard University took two days to decide the issue in its meeting with Philadelphia Textile. In the first meeting of the two schools, the game was called with seven minutes to play in the game when officials decided "it was unsafe to continue." The score was tied, 0-0. The postponed game was consequently replayed Monday with Howard winning, 1-0, but with fans excluded from the field.

'Big Deer' Contest Underway, Hunting Season at Half Mark

With the deer kill approaching the 8,000 mark and half of both the shotgun and archery seasons remaining, hunters were reminded today of the "Big Deer" contest co-sponsored by the Illinois Department of Conservation and the Illinois Wildlife Federation.

Jim Lockart, supervisor of the conservation department's division of wildlife resources, said: "If you bag an outstanding animal, either buck or doe, enter it in the contest. Entry blanks can be obtained from your check station."

"Remember, the state record deer is a 301-pound buck taken this season by an archer, Dennis Speers, in Carroll County. It had eight points. If you bag an animal approaching this size, enter it," Lockart advised.

The archery season is on now until Dec. 7; then has a final opening of Dec. 13-31. Final half of the shotgun season is Dec. 11-13.

Besides check stations, entry blanks for the "Big Deer" contest may be obtained from the Illinois Wildlife Federation, 13118 S. Western Ave., Blue Island, Ill. 60406, or from the Big Deer Committee, Sam Hill, Chairman, 405 N. Edison St., Freeburg, Ill. 62423.

26 - Roxana, 9th grade, 4 p.m.
26 - Roxana, 7-8 grade, home, 4 p.m.

Lockart believes that the present total represents at least two thirds of the expected season kill. "Experience has shown that most of the hunter success is in the first half of the shotgun season," he explained.

This produced a harvest of 6,727 animals. We expect the final overall season tally to hit between 10,000 and 11,000 deer, well within harvest limits of the Illinois herd."

Hunters claimed 6,727 deer in the first half of the season. This was an increase of 391 over last year's first season, when 6,336 deer were killed. A total of 46,619 permits have been issued to Illinois hunters to date.

Pope County led the state with 604 kills. The county had 315 deer claimed in the northern half and 289 bagged in the southern section. Jo Daviess County had 482 kills and Union County, 384.

The largest deer killed was a 256-pound field dressed buck taken in Washington County. "This has been a very good start," Cahoun said. "It shows that the Illinois deer herd is continuing on an upward trend."

SIU Cougars Drop Opener To Rivermen

Jim Dudley, new coach of the Southern Illinois University-Southern basketball team, was a picture of grim disappointment outside of the dressing room of the huge St. Louis Arena after his young Cougars had lost their opening game, 97-50, to the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen Tuesday night.

"If a team is hitting its shots, there's no way you can win," he pointed out, but added: "We'll come along... we're very definitely better than we looked tonight."

The game's statistics bore out Dudley's view of the game: UMSL, outshot SIU-SW for the game, 443 to 305. In the crucial first half it was even worse as the Cougars were really cold hitting a dismal 280 to the Rivermen's nearly 500.

It was the sixth straight victory in three years for the Rivermen over SIU-SW, but, as Dudley pointed out, his charges will get an early opportunity to avenge the defeat as UMSL comes to Edwardsville next Jan. 16 to play the Cougars.

Big Jim Buford of UMSL, subbing for the injured Greg Daust, had a terrific night scoring 33 points to take point-making honors for the game. For the Cougars it was senior guard Rich Essington of Venice who was high for SIU-SW with 15 points. Next for the Cougars was sophomore guard Denny Thronburg, with 12 points. Tall (6-8) Gene Bounds was the only other Cougar in double figures, with 10 points. Also facing the Cougars next week is unbeaten (7-0) Concordia Seminary of St. Louis. The Cougars meet Concordia Dec. 12 in Edwardsville.

Mater Dei Stuns GC Cagers in 61-46 Tilt

Granite City High School's basketball Warriors dropped their first game of the season, 61-46 at Breese Tuesday night, following their successful start at Springfield Griffin.

Mater Dei, undefeated in three games, took an eight point lead in the first quarter which ended at 20-12. The Warriors held on in the second period as Mater Dei gained another point advantage, and it was 30-21 at the half.

The third quarter saw the winners garner 16 more points, and the score was 46-33 going into the final stanza.

Mater Dei then romped with 25 more to win going away. The Breese team previously defeated Madison 90-80 and Collinsville 83-65.

Warrior high point man was center Mike DeRuntz, 6'3 1/2 senior with 14 points. Paul Kreke, center for Mater Dei, totaled 18.

Other Warrior scoring were Terry Ripka with nine; Joe Wallace, six; John Ireland, four; Dyer, eight; Chuck Kraus, three; and Bob Wiggins, two.

Mater Dei dominated the rebounding with 42, compared to 30 for the Warriors.

Mike DeRuntz accounted for only six as compared to 15 against Griffin last week.

Mater Dei made 15 out of 15 free throws, resulting from 14 fouls called against Warriors.

Only six fouls were made against Granite City and accounted for only two points from free throws.

Coch Don Deierding stated, "The team was not driving hard enough, this can be seen by Mater Dei not being forced, by our driving, to foul us."

Not making excuses but reviewing the defeat Coach Deierding continued, "Part of the problem is that of the first seven players, five are juniors, plus the fact they have only been able to practice together the past couple of weeks as key basketball players were also out for football. None of the Mater Dei players played football and that gave the team considerable more time to practice together. I am sure that with a few more games the Warriors will be more than catch up and be a team to be reckoned with."

"We only shot 29% from the floor and this is disgraceful, particularly when you consider that we had ample shots at the basket. No one was hitting."

"I was really impressed with the enthusiasm of the Mater Dei fans. The gym was noisy with really great enthusiasm by the Mater Dei student body."

The Warrior JV team was more fortunate as they won their game against Mater Dei 60-52.

The Warriors will meet Collinsville here Friday with game time at 8:15. The JVs will play at 6:30 p.m. Tickets will go on sale at 6:15 p.m.

Venice Defeats Columbia 80-58

The Venice High School Red Devils defeated Columbia 80 to 58 Tuesday night in a game played at Columbia.

Although the Red Devils led at every quarter Coach Bill Ohlendorf felt that the play could have been much better.

The end of the first period saw the Red Devils ahead 19-14. The lead grew to 42-26 at the half and was 55-41 at the end of the third quarter.

High point man for Venice was Doug Johnson, junior forward, with 27 points. He was followed closely by Cedric Gardner with 26.

Other Red Devils scoring were, Algie Smith, 13; Jim Ohlendorf, 12; Ray Mosby, guard, 2.

Gardner dominated the rebounding with 16 of the 37 taken by Venice.

Venice scored 34 field goals and 12 free throws as compared to Columbia's 21 field goals and 16 free throws.

Venice will host Vashon for the first time Saturday night. According to Coach Ohlendorf this will be a tough game as Vashon has one of the better teams in the St. Louis area.

GCHS Soccer Squad Wins 2 1/2 Games, Finally Scored Upon

Granite City High School's soccer team dominated St. Dominic by a 6-0 score Tuesday evening on the local Warrior field after a game with Chaminade was called at the half Monday evening when electric power went out during the school fire.

The local Warriors continued their streak Wednesday with a 5-1 victory over Lutheran South. Coach Tom Wyrostek's Warriors led Chaminade 4-0 as the varsity has yet to be scored upon in three games, and the contest will be continued at a later date to be determined.

Granite City scored all of its goals in the first period. Bobby Galvin scored three, including two unassisted plays, and Wayne Canada counted the other. Jerry Duncan came threw on a cross for an assist.

The Warriors took 10 shots to four for Chaminade. There were no corner kicks.

The six goals against St. Dominic included four more by Galvin, one by Canada and one by Carl Duke. Granite City outshot the losers 12 to 4, with 10 corner kicks to none.

In the first four games of the season, the Warriors outscored their opponents 22 to 1, with Galvin collecting 12, Canada four, Duncan three, Duke two and Bell Bronbauer one.

outshot the foe 47 to 11 and had 14 corner kicks to 1.

Duncan was taken off of the front line where he played last year to move to defense at half-back. Jimmy Forrester set up many of the plays.

The Warrior junior varsity won its preliminary game against St. Dominic 3-0 for its second shutout in two outings.

Galvin again starred against Lutheran South. He scored or assisted in four of the goals. He has scored nine goals this week and has been credited with 12 goals in the four games this season.

His high school soccer career has seen 43 successful goal attempts.

The Warriors' first goal came on a cross from Galvin to Bronbauer who put the ball into the net with a carefully aimed head shot, making the score 1-0 at the end of the first half.

In the second half, Jerry Duncan showed that he, too, could be a threat on the field as he passed to Galvin for the Warriors' second score. Shortly after that goal, Galvin passed to Wayne Canada, who quickly set up Carl Duke for the third score of the afternoon.

Canada was credited with the fourth goal after a pass from Forrester.

The final score of the afternoon came on an assist from Duke to Galvin, which ended Lutheran South's hopes of return home victory.

"We dominated the ball game," said head coach coach Tom Wyrostek. "At the first of the game they had us down in our end, but after that we took control," he said.

The varsity team will go against DeMet, in an away game tomorrow at 4 p.m. "They're a tough team and it will be a good game," Wyrostek said.

The Warriors jayvees blanked Lutheran-South 4-0 in a preliminary event.

Two Bomb Threats in Same Day at Venice

An anonymous caller, believed to be a young boy, phoned the Venice High School at 8:30 a.m. yesterday and said that there was a bomb in the school. A girl student office helper received the call and notified the principal, Lewis E. Sabin.

Police checked the building while the 50th Ordnance Detachment of the Granite City Army Depot waited on standby. No bomb was found.

At 2:05 p.m. Mr. Sabin received another call from a young boy, again warning of the bomb. A second check of the school was made, and again no bomb was found.

The Warriors' first goal came on a cross from Galvin to Bronbauer who put the ball into the net with a carefully aimed head shot, making the score 1-0 at the end of the first half.

Motorists Warned; Be Wary Of Bargain-Priced Tires

Attorney General William J. Scott today warned Illinois motorists to be wary of low-priced automobile tires. They may be dangerously substandard and unfit for highway use. Scott said that many such tires which contain manufacturing defects are usually marked "For Non-Highway Use" or "Farm Use Only," but the Attorney General said that investigations by the National Highway Safety Bureau and others have found that some distributors and tire dealers have buffed off the warning or restriction markings on the walls of the tires. Scott said the Safety Bureau, which is part of the U.S. Department of Transportation, found that some 185,000 tires manufactured in the last year were not certified by the manufacturers because of some production defect. At the same time that he issued the general warning to the motoring public, Scott also warned sellers and distributors of the so-called "reject" tires that as of today they can be fined $1,000 for selling defective tires for use on a passenger car.

Should be Stamped

Scott, a member of President Nixon's national Consumer Affairs Advisory Council, said that the Federal safety standards have now been amended to require tire manufacturers to stamp rejected tires as unsafe for highway use and attach a cautionary tag to each defective tire. At the same time, tire dealers must now keep records on the sales of any tire to any customer.

Assistant Attorney General George M. Schafer, chief of Scott's downstate Consumer Protection division, said he is checking a number of widely scattered reports of defective tires being sold to young drivers and to used car dealers in Illinois.

Schafer said he has been working closely with William R. Deutsch, executive director of the Illinois Petroleum Marketers Association; Harry Bellmer, executive vice-president of the Illinois Automotive Wholesalers Association; and James E. Anderson, executive secretary of the Illinois State Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association.

Unsafe for Highway Schafer said all three trade associations had expressed concern that tires regarded as unsafe for highway use were being sold—at prices ranging from $9 to $12—to consumers who believed they were buying factory-certified tires at bargain basement prices.

It is known, Attorney General Scott said, that a considerable number of "reject" tires have found their way to the retail market and have been installed on passenger cars, but due to the absence of specific sales records it is unlikely the defective tires can be traced.

Scott said the new Federal standards requiring such records, plus the threat of a $1,000 fine, should reduce the threat of unsafe tire sales to an absolute minimum.

MORE ABOUT Ousted Board

John Hoban of Belleville, one of the attorneys on the regular levee district payroll and defense counsel for the levee district trustees, contended state law did not include mandatory forfeiture of office as a penalty in such cases.

Hoban also argued that the trustees had no criminal record and, prior to this conviction, had carried out their duties within the law.

Forego Board Meetings
Uncertain status of the levee district's future operation results from a decision by levee district trustees following the court action to forego any future board meetings or official actions pending outcome of the appeal.

Eberhardt told the Press-Record that the board members agreed following the sentencing that they will approve no further official actions of any kind, including payrolls, claims or district operations.

He said he does not know what will happen when the next payroll is due or how district expenditures for the past few months will be met.

"Under the circumstances, we are in no position to take any official action until our status in official is determined legally," Eberhardt said.

"Under Judge Mayes' ruling, we have been removed from office, although that ruling may be changed by an appeal.

"On the other hand, we would be in a poor position if we were to conduct official business while the appeal was pending and the appellate court ever overrules the circuit judge.

Therefore, our hands are tied," Eberhardt added.

A total of $21,444 is needed to achieve the campaign quota, drive officials said today, as they urged volunteer workers to "make a final concentrated effort" to secure the outstanding pledge cards.

MORE ABOUT Fire Loss

by steam from the main boiler system at the high school.

Shortly after the roof collapsed, firemen began spraying the two large trees in front of the building to keep them from catching fire and falling into the crowd on the lawn or into another section of the building.

The Madison Fire Department received a call for help at 4:05 p.m., and the Venice Fire Department was alerted at 4:15 p.m. Both departments remained on the scene until 9:35 p.m.

The fire and its destruction of one of the older units of the high school complex, had a telling emotional effect upon the spectators, both young and old alike.

Adults, many of whom had spent many their school hours in the building, were saddened by the event. Many of the students were similarly affected. One girl, who ran onto the grounds and first saw the fire, remarked: "Oh... it's Fire Chief Earl Frenberger, issued a statement following the fire, in which he said:

"The Granite City Fire Department would like to express its gratitude to the many individuals who helped the men of our department and the various other departments in our joint effort to contain the fire at the Granite City Senior High School Monday evening.

"We received assistance from many people, some of whom were cornered students, boys and girls alike, of Granite High. We would especially thank the McDougal Drive-In, the Salvation Army, and the Red Barn Drive-In for sending over the coffee, soda and sandwiches which were greatly appreciated by the men.

"We would like to especially thank also the fire departments of Madison, Venice, Granite City Army Depot, Long Lake and Mitchell for their quick response and help, without which we could not have contained the fire to the extent that we did. We also acknowledge the excellent help of the city, county, state and auxiliary police.

"We take this opportunity to thank everyone involved, though we are sure they know who they are. Again our thanks to everyone."

Annual 'College Night' Tuesday at GCHS

Representatives from 11 major universities and colleges will take part in the annual "College Night" program, set for 7:15 p.m. Tuesday at Granite City High School. Despite Monday's disastrous fire at the local high school, the event will be held as planned, Steve Jones, assistant principal, said today.

A preliminary orientation session will take place in the high school cafeteria, with parents and students then adjourning to different classroom areas to meet with the college representatives, Jones said.

Sophomores and juniors are especially encouraged to attend the "College Night" program to discuss entrance requirements, admission fees and other information vital to the long-range planning now necessary at the higher education level, the GCHS official noted.

Two Vehicles, Weeds Burn in Three Fires

Firemen were called three times early Wednesday afternoon as fires damaged two vehicles and burned a weed field.

A carburetor backfire caused $200 damage to a 1967 van owned by the Economy Floor Center, 1909 Delmar Ave., at 12:05 p.m. A short in the wiring caused $75 loss to the 1961 auto of Ruth Hehle, 2509 Adams St., at her home at 1:30 p.m. The weed fire was at 1 p.m. at 3200 Merced drive.

Three-Auto Accident

An auto driven by James E. Craig, 2953 Madison Ave., attempting to pass, struck a car driven by Irene Rainer, 848 Alton Road, causing it to clip the left rear of an auto owned by Erma E. Griffin, 3020 Wilow Ave., at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday at 1800 Madison Ave. Craig was issued a careless driving ticket.

$50 Stolen

Judy Purdue, 1635 Maple St., reported at 12:45 a.m. today that someone stole $50 in change from her home since the Thanksgiving holidays.

Tires Stolen

Four tires, wheels and hubcaps were stolen from the 1967 auto of Mike Reichwein, 2155 Benton St., while it was parked in front of his home, he reported at 6 a.m. today.

Election of Assistant Supervisors Ruled Out

Attorney General William J. Scott said today that assistant supervisors who now hold that office in counties with a township form of government will continue to serve until the first Monday in May, 1972. Thereafter, the office of assistant supervisor will be abolished in accordance with new statutes.

Scott made this clear in an opinion issued to State's Attorney William R. Ketcham of Kane County concerning new reorganization legislation passed in the 1969 session of the General Assembly. That legislation repealed the provision for the election of assistant supervisors.

The effect of Scott's opinion today, thus, rules out the need for Assistant Supervisor elections in 1971 and holds that those assistant supervisors now in office will continue to serve until the first Monday in May, 1972, when reorganized county boards — reappointed on the basis of the 1970 census — take office.

Tree of Lights Donations At 14% of $10,000 Quota

Contributions to the Salvation Army "Tree of Lights" campaign to provide Christmas baskets, food, clothing and toys for needy Quad-City families reached $1,429, or slightly more than 14% of the $10,000 goal.

Donations received to date at the Salvation Army office, 1239 Nineteenth St., have turned on 57 lights on the Christmas Tree, located in Memorial Park across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Among those contributing to the 1970 fund-raising appeal are members of Granite City Loyal Order of Moose, Lodge 272, whose efforts as Beltingers at Salvation Army kettle sites on Saturday evening resulted in donations from passersby amounting to $241. The funds enabled 10 lights to be illuminated on the Christmas tree.

This year's "Tree of Lights" drive was initiated last Saturday noon at a free brunch and kick-off ceremony held at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

Venice Council Creates Civil Defense Unit

An ordinance officially creating a Venice Civil Defense Unit was adopted by the Venice council in regular meeting Tuesday night.

The ordinance establishes the office of Civilian Defense Director and provides he shall be appointed by the mayor with the consent of the city council.

The municipal defense organization, the ordinance states, "shall perform such civil defense functions within the municipality as shall be prescribed in and by the state civil defense plan and program prepared by the governor, and such orders, rules and regulations as may be promulgated by the governor."

Adoption of the ordinance gives the Venice Civil Defense unit official status and qualifies it as a unit of the National Defense Council.

Mayor John E. Lee, acting on a request by Amanda Coleman, of the American Legion Post 759 auxiliary, joined in a proclamation with other mayors of the area declaring Monday, Dec. 7, which is Pearl Harbor Day, as "Civil Defense Day."

The proclamation was issued by Mayor Lee, by Mayor Mike Sault of Madison, Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City and Mayor Thomas Statcott of Ponton Beach.

Henry McMullen, McKinley bridge manager, reported November traffic on the bridge totaled 22,412 vehicles, a daily average of 7,481.

Regional Report -- Schools, Highways, Industrial Parks

A settlement of the two-month teachers' dispute was ratified at a special meeting of East St. Louis Teachers Union Local 1220. Ratification came after an all-day negotiating session between union representatives and the East St. Louis Board of Education.

The agreement calls for a one-year contract without pay increases. However, teachers will be eligible for increments ranging from $220 to $800, depending on years of service. The strike cost the teachers an estimated $1,000,000 in wages and benefits.

In other education news, trustees of Southern Illinois University have approved a $29 million construction program for the SIU-SW Dental School.

Chancellor John S. Rendleman urged immediate action on the program to meet deadlines for application of matching construction funds from the federal government. The new school is reportedly eligible for about $18 million in federal funds.

Another contract was awarded to Vincent Kosarek of New Athens for constructing a railroad grade separation carrying Interstate Rt. 64 in St. Clair County.

Bi-State Parks Airport has completed the initial phase of a $1 million improvement program. The new 5500-foot jet runway has been paved and will be open to traffic early in December.

Col. R. E. Smyser reports that construction of 22 new Thangars is also underway. These will replace 30 of the present hangars.

For the first time in the current fiscal year, revenues of the Bi-State Transit System during October exceeded expenses.

Despite the satisfactory results for this one month, a deficit is expected for the current year. Bi-State Transit System points out a need for state or local assistance or it may be forced to increase fares and curtail service in parts of the two-state area.

Illinois Metro East Corp. and Southwest Regional Port District have announced the completion of a new map pinpointing 184 industrial sites. All the sites are located in the American Bottoms portion of the two counties.

Most of the acreage is zoned agricultural or heavy industry. Agricultural zones account for 6,788 acres while 3,085 acres are zoned for heavy industry.

More than half of the sites have rail access and nearly one-fourth have a major road.

The contract was awarded to the Calhoun County Contracting Corp. of Springfield. Preliminary work will begin soon on a stretch of highway from Powder Mill Road to Franklin Ave. in Cottage Hill.

The road work will include widening two bridges over Wood Creek, traffic signals and signs.

Water Problem For New School Faced by Board

The Granite City Board of Education ordered that a petition be filed for disconnection of the school system from the Mitchell Public Water District in the area of the Schaefer school site during an adjourned meeting Monday night.

Economic factors have blocked efforts to obtain a water tap-on for the new school now under construction, and negotiations between the school board and the Mitchell and East St. Louis & Interurban utilities have been unsuccessful.

Consideration had been given to filing of a petition with the Illinois Commerce Commission forcing the Interurban firm to grant a tap-on to its main, but it was believed the procedure would take too long.

Other proposals for the Mitchell district and school system to increase or rebate the cost of construction of a water line were unacceptable to the school board. It was pointed out, however, that the school district could seek annexation from the one water district to the other.

In other action the board: Approved a water safety course at Granite City High School in connection with the education program.

Accepted a gift of calendars and plaques for use in the schools from the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

Accepted a resignation from Camille Emms, Frohndt School teacher, and granted a leave of absence to Frank Lewis, a custodian.

Approved a request by the Granite City Steel Co. Management Club to use the Central Junior High School Auditorium Dec. 22 for a children's Christmas party.

Authorized the administration to take emergency steps needed to repair fire damage at Granite City High School.

Tomorrow Deadline For Basket Pleas

Tomorrow is the final day that applications for Christmas baskets through the Salvation Army's "Tree of Lights" program will be accepted at the Army's headquarters, 1239 Nineteenth St., Lt. Donald R. Noyes, local SA commander, said today.

A total of 396 applications had been received through 4 p.m. yesterday, showing a slight increase over the number of applicants in the first three days that registrations were accepted last year.

Today and Friday, families may apply in person at the Salvation Army office for the Christmas baskets between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., the commander said. Baskets probably will be distributed on Dec. 23 and 24, with eligible families notified in advance, he explained.

Lt. Noyes reminded other local groups planning to distribute baskets that names of needy families may be secured or verified from a master list to be coordinated at the Salvation Army office.

Coordinating gift distributions projects through a single United Fund agency avoids the possibility of duplication and enables all families in need to share in Christmas giving, the officer said.

MORE ABOUT Few Deaths

stroke deaths, and was average in heart disease deaths.

A level of a county undoubtedly influences the mortality rate, those counties with a high median age tending to have a higher rate.

However, the other factors suspected to bear on incidence of death may be such that they can be controlled sufficiently to reduce suffering, loss of productivity and possibly loss of life, Dr. Stoneman said.

Goal Is Prevention
"In fact, to find ways of discovering and controlling these factors is the reason the regional medical programs came into being."

Some of 55 established across the nation, Bi-State RMP is specifically charged with affording the medical profession and health institutions in eastern Missouri and southern Illinois a better opportunity to bring their patients the latest advances in diagnosis and treatment of heart disease, cancer, stroke and related diseases is a complementary goal.

Bi-State RMP is now in its third year. The first year was spent accumulating an information base upon which to make plans for the region. The last two years have seen implementation of these plans with operating projects.

Some of these projects, Dr. Stoneman said, are designed for immediate improvement in quality and availability of patient care.

Others, looking to the future, seek answers to such questions as what are the factors that cause one county to have a higher death rate from heart disease, for example, than an adjoining county in the same geographical area and with the same median population age.

Chicago Official Charges State Delay on Airports

By JIM MEES
Press-Record Springfield Correspondent

Aides to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie caused irreparable damage by delaying statewide airport construction and improvement program totaling an estimated $14 million, a top municipal aviation administrator has charged.

William E. Downes Jr., Chicago's aviation commissioner with jurisdiction over O'Hare, Midway and Meigs airfields, forcefully contended this week that members of the governor's staff and bureau of the budget perpetrated "flagrant, unfair, and unconscionable" deeds of mismanagement upon the city of Chicago.

Downes blasted the Republican administration for dilatory tactics in releasing state funds necessary for securing federally allocated money during the 1970 construction season.

He said Chicago was forced to deter local funds, originally earmarked for construction of a new terminal building, in order to get federal dollars, and even these applications involving state money were not adequately processed by the state's official clearing house.

Set 30-Day Limit

A federal circular setting up the state clearing house earlier this year established a 30-day limit for consideration of all airport projects requesting federal help.

Downes said numerous application forms sent to the governor's office were completely ignored for several months during the last building season.

George N. Kirk, manager of the Quad-City airport in Moline, said it took state clearing house officials more than four months to process federal matching fund projects for his airport.

The governor's aides who admit the delay now claim they have the situation well in hand.

Yule Programs To Be Announced

The Press-Record again this year will publish Quad-City area churches' Christmas programs.

The programs should be submitted to this newspaper by Dec. 11 for publication on Dec. 17.

of the office equipment and all of the records were taken out of the building before the fire reached the first floor level. The vault was undamaged.

The section of the building which burned was 48 years old. Fire doors and 16-inch thick walls between the auditorium section and classrooms on either side kept the fire contained in the one section.

Students aided teachers and school officials in removing files and records from the office. Later, hundreds of students volunteered to participate in the vast cleanup job.

School was dismissed Tuesday. Wednesday and today to determine full extent of damage to the boiler system which serves the high school and Coolidge Junior High School.

Necessary repairs to the heating system will be made Tuesday and Wednesday morning and the heating system was tested yesterday afternoon.

Discovered Fire

Thomas Noeth, assistant principal, was first to discover the fire in the northern corner of the stage where scenery from the sophomore class play and the queen's throne from homecoming were stored.

"The fire was about a foot high at the time," Noeth said. "Kenneth Spaulding (also assistant principal) and I ran to get fire extinguishers and I told the clerks to call the fire department."

By the time Noeth and Spaulding returned with the extinguishers, the fire was out of control.

Firemen working in front of the building were hampered at first by a lack of water pressure. Robert Hillard, district manager of the East St. Louis Water Co., said that when pressure problems developed, water company personnel showed firemen where to hook up to other lines and the problem ended.

Maintain Normal Pressure

The normal water pressure of about 30 pounds per square inch in the mains was maintained within one or two pounds plus or minus throughout the fire," Hillard said.

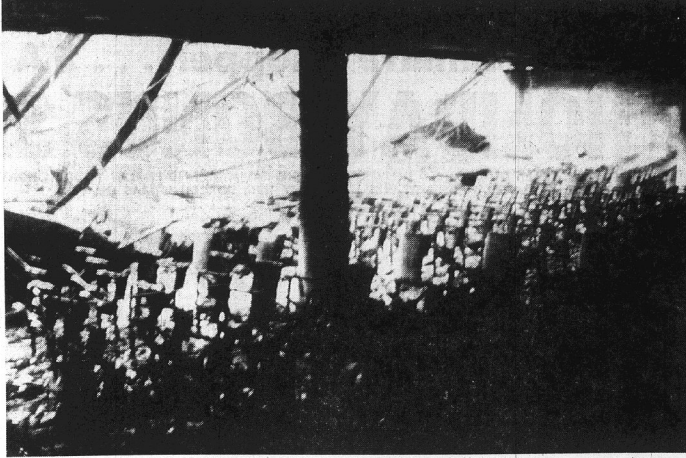

He said that shortly after 4 p.m. he ordered the plant to pay close attention to the water pressure and keep it as normal as possible. "I think they did an excellent job maintaining the water pressure," Hillard added.

Both McCauley and Noeth said all important records and papers were removed safely from the building before the fire reached the office. McCauley, who suffers from asthma, was prevented from going into the smoke-filled office by Noeth, but Noeth and a group of students and teachers entered the office through an open window and handed the records and filing cabinets through the window to other students.

After all records were removed they left the office, again through the window.

The only injury occurred when a teacher helping in the operation, Max Forbes, sprained his ankle leaving the building. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where X-rays of his ankle were taken. He was at school Tuesday morning helping to clean up the building.

Within minutes after smoke began rolling from beneath the roof of the auditorium building, traffic became jammed on all streets in the vicinity of the high school. Motorists who were unfortunate enough to be come trapped in a maze of fire hose and intersections blocked by police cars, were forced to sit out the long battle by firemen.

As fire equipment and police vehicles converged on the area from all directions, streets were blocked off at 28th Street on Madison Avenue, on Nameoki Road at Johnson Avenue, State Street and Grand Avenue at 28th Street and 28th Street at Grand Avenue.

Workers from the downtown district who were caught in the traffic jam on their way home said they were unable to reach their homes until 7 p.m. or later. The only available route to the Pontoon and North Grand areas was over Route 3 to West Pontoon Road which provided access to Nameoki Road on the other side of the road between blocks and fire equipment.

One minor accident occurred during the traffic tieup on Fehling Road at 4:45 p.m. when an auto driven by Gerald W. Clark, Rural Route Two, struck the right rear of the auto of Gary W. Stevenson, 3131 Colgate Place.

Thirty auxiliary police aided Granite City officers in handling the vast traffic problem, working under direction of Assistant Police Chief George Telor and Auxiliary Police Chief John Becker.

The auxiliary police motor squad including members of the Aidan Temple Defense unit also reported to assist. Some were in uniform but others came directly from their jobs to the fire scene in civilian clothes.

Approximately 20 members of the Citizen Band Emergency Radio Team (CBERT), a unit of the Civil Defense organization, assisted police in blocking intersections and other traffic controls.

At the request of the police department, the Civilian Defense unit obtained emergency lighting equipment in the event the power company was unable to provide flood lighting immediately after the fire was extinguished.

Victor Koenig, Civilian Defense director, said he obtained the equipment from the St. Clair County Civil Defense headquarters at Swansea, along with emergency generators in the vicinity of the defense headquarters. The equipment was placed on stand-

Teenagers To Compete In Pageant Finals

Girls between the ages of 13 and 17 interested in competing in the Illinois State Finals of the Miss American Teen Ager Pageant next summer are urged to obtain applications by writing the official certification office for the State of Illinois at 126 Bunn Drive, Reckton, Ill. 61072.

Contestants are judged for their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, police, personality and appearance, officials advise, noting the contest does not focus on talent or swim suit presentations.

The Illinois State Finals of the Miss American Teen Ager Pageant will take place at the Holiday Inn-East, Springfield, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 27 and 28, 1971. The state winner will qualify for an all-expense paid trip, accompanied by a chaperone, to compete in the National Finals in Paltades Park, N. J., in September.

Turn Rule Enforced

Madison police announced today that they have begun enforcing the no-left-turn law on northbound McCambridge Avenue onto Second Street, westbound. Eight persons have been ticketed in the past four days for making the improper turn. The signs have been posted for about two years.

A total of $25,000 in prizes, scholarship awards and trips awaits the winner in the National Finals. Contestants must be 17 years of age on Sept. 11, 1971, officials state.

Metal Services, Piper Industries Announce Merger

Metal Services Inc. of Madison, together with its Steelbrade Division, have merged with Piper Industries of Memphis, Tenn. It was announced jointly by Paul Piper, president of Piper Industries, and David N. Jones, board chairman of Metal Services.

Metal Services will operate as an independent subsidiary maintaining the same management and personnel. No changes are anticipated in the present method of operation.

The local Madison Plant is fully equipped for operating as a steel processing center. The equipment includes multi-sliters and recoil lines complemented by automatic strapping, palletizing and product weighing units, also coil facilities for flattening and cutting to length both sheet and strip, plus steel shears and sheet slitting.

The Steelbrade Granite City plant has complete facility of centrifugal blasting, shot peening and precision glass bead equipment.

Another wholly owned subsidiary of Piper Industries is Steel Sitters Inc., which operates a plant similar to Metal Services Inc. in Memphis, Tenn. and Houston, Tex., and the merger of these facilities and personnel is expected to substantially increase the services offered.

Jones said the merger calls for immediate plans of additional space and processing equipment for the Madison Plant.

Chapter 650 OES Installs Officers at Ceremony

The annual installation of officers of Granite Chapter 650, Order of Eastern Star, held Monday evening at the Masonic Temple, was witnessed by about 300 members and guests.

The room was attractively decorated with pink candles in tall white floor standards in the East and West, and a large pink heart with orchids and pink net further enhanced the setting in the East. A large bouquet of yellow roses completed the decorations in the West and the backs of the five Star point chairs were adorned with pink hearts and pink streamers centered with orchids.

Mrs. Elfreda Barr, a past worthy Grand Matron of Illinois and Mrs. Dorothy Edwards, Grand Representative of Arizona, were asked to share the East after being formally introduced. Also introduced were the installing officers, Mrs. Cora Hettick, installing officer; Mrs. Dorothy Fitzpatrick, installing marshal; and Mrs. Vivian Blankenship, installing chaplain; all past matrons of Granite Chapter.

After the opening ceremony, the ode to the flag by Bruce Hawkins, son of the incoming patron, John's Daughters formed a cross as the Worthy Matron-elect, Mrs. Marilyn Timmons, was escorted to the altar for presentation to the installing officers. After being invested with the badge of her office the soloist, Mrs. Lois Blythe, sang "I Believe." Ann Timmons daughter of the worthy matron, presented her mother with an arm bouquet of red roses, and she was escorted to the altar by her husband Joe Timmons.

As the worthy patron-elect, Ray Penn, was escorted to the altar and invested with the badge of his office the soloist sang "I'll Never Walk Alone" and his daughter, Nancy presented him with a boutonniere before his wife Velma escorted him to his post in the East.

Other officers installed were Louise Meador, associate matron; Cleveland Cox, associate patron; Mary Ellen Lewis, secretary; Vivian Blankenship, treasurer; Rachel Larsen, conductress; Betty McClintock, associate conductress; Mary Ann DeHaan, chaplain; Wanda Kincaid, marshal; Carol Ann Leur, organist; Jeanette Garrison, Asah; Cecelia Taylor, Ruth; Mary Duckett, Esther; Betty Ebrecht, Martha; Abby Bartling, Electa; Velma Penn, warder; Harold Duckett, sentinel; and Larry Taylor, color bearer.

After the installation the Worthy Matron led the group in prayer and the DeMolay's held the Mine O'clock Interpellation. Mrs. Mary Bilibrey, junior past matron, presented the Chapter "Traveling Jewel" to the new matron. This is the gift of the first Matron of the Chapter. Mrs. Emily Petrie, now deceased, and it has been worn by all Matrons of the Chapter with much pride. Joe Bilibrey Jr., presented his mother with her Past Matron ring and Mrs. Mary French presented her husband, Earl French, with a past patron's tie tac.

There were other gifts presented by the past officers, structures and escorts and the soloist sang "How Great Thou Art."

The benediction was given by Phillip H. Powers, minister of the Church of Christ. The new escorts are Dorothy Brokaw, Loren Worthen, Joyce Frith, Kathryn Worthen, John Turner and Dorothy Helton. Refreshments were served in the dining room after the ceremony.

The tables were covered with pink cloths overlaid with pink net trimmed with deep ribbon, and a large centerpiece was formed of orchids and net. Silver candleholders and silver candles completed the setting.

Out of town guests attending the installation were Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Austin of North City, Ill., parents of the new Worthy Matron.

Quad-City Girl Scouts To Hold Their Annual 'Festivals of Giving'

By DORIS STOTZ
Glennview-East Granite Correspondent

District Four (Quad-City) Girl Scouts of the River Bluffs Council are once again living their promise. "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times and to obey the Girl Scout laws." They are preparing to hold their annual "Festival of Giving" programs. The schedule of festivals will begin tomorrow. Neighborhood Three, whose chairman is Mrs. Vivian Davis, will conduct its program from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday at Nameoki School. Neighborhood Five, headed by Mrs. Wilma McQuinn, will meet at Nameoki School from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, while Neighborhood Four, led by Miss Carolyn Voway, will meet at Nameoki School the following day, from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Also on Sunday, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., Neighborhood One, headed by Mrs. Linda Noud, will hold its "festival of giving" at the Madison Memorial Recreation Center. The concluding festival is set for 2 p.m. the following Sunday, Dec. 13, at St. Joseph's School. It will be held by Neighborhood Two, whose chairman is Mrs. Doris Wood. Each troop in the five neighborhoods fills a decorated basket with canned goods, food staples, tree ornaments and toys to donate to the Catholic Charities, Protestant Welfare Association, Red Cross and Salvation Army for distribution to the needy at Christmas. This annual community service project originated in the late 1940s with a toy drive, which was recommended by the National Council. The early festivals were conducted by the former Tri-City Council, based in Granite City. The project was expanded from the toy drive to include the present food donations, supplemented by toys. Mrs. John (Esther) Zimmer, 1501 Cottage Ave., reports. She was a vice-president and president of the Tri-City Girl Scout Council, which served approximately 1,000 scouts at one time. Membership nearly doubled during her term in the early 1960s. Mrs. Louis Marlette, 2300 Clinton Drive, chairman of District Four, has announced that the present count of scouts shows 108 troops, 2144 Girl Scouts, 248 active leaders and a total of 345 adult volunteers, including associate members. Each neighborhood provides entertainment for the public during the basket presentation ceremonies, which include a tree trimming, community singing and a visit from Santa Claus. Each spring, District Four also provides approximately 1500 "penny boxes" to the Alton State Hospital. This Easter gift project originated in this district and is unique in the River Bluffs Council.

PRAYER BREAKFAST COMMITTEE MEETS

Mrs. Helen Christich, chairman of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's annual Prayer Breakfast to be held April 18 at 8:30 a.m. at the local High School cafeteria, held a planning meeting this week at her home, 1628 Cedar St.

Pinocle games provided entertainment during the afternoon and prizes were won by Mrs. Myrtle Bruns, Mrs. Alma Haldeman, Mrs. J. J. Johnson, Mrs. Verna Moehle and Mrs. Mabel Borum. The morning was spent quilting and after a dessert luncheon served by the hostess, Mrs. Van Best, there was a Christmas lesson by Mrs. Mildred Candiff entitled "A Time for Hope" by Roy H. Ryan. Mrs. Pender conducted the business discussion during which announcement was made of a school of missions to be held in February, and a report was given of the recent bazaar held at the church.

As a Christmas project the Circle has provided several dolls and other toys for children in the Neighborhood House in East St. Louis, and gifts will be provided for shut-ins.

Elkettes Hold Annual Yule Party, Dinner

One of the largest of the pre-holiday events taking place this week was the annual Christmas party and dinner of the Elkettes held at the Elk's Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mary Batson, chairman, and Mrs. Catherine Michel, co-chairman, were in charge of arrangements for the party which was preceded by cocktails served by Mrs. Hulda Davis and Mrs. Mildred Fehling. Sparkling effervescent wine flowed from a silver fountain and dinner was served from tables appropriately decorated with seasonal centerpieces which were later used as prizes. Santa's boots, filled with mints, served as favors for the 94 members and guests attending.

Mrs. Michel and Mrs. Dean Graf provided the games and music awarded to Mrs. Evelyn Ferro and Mrs. Marlene Roman.

The attendance prizes were presented to Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Pauletta Mueller, Mrs. Ethel Hansel, Mrs. Juel

Frizell, Mrs. Bernice Grimm, Mrs. Vivian Hulen, Mrs. Helen Todd, Mrs. Mary Whitell, Mrs. Dorothy Copeland, Mrs. Ethel Martin, Mrs. Helen Christich, Mrs. Dorothy Lueders, Mrs. Elvira Thurbel, Mrs. Helen Pregel, Mrs. Beatrice Brackett, Mrs. Ann Gaspary, Mrs. Doris Anderson, Mrs. Florine Compton, Mrs. Wilma Harrison and the Elkettes president, Mrs. Gladys Gandoria, who conducted a brief business meeting. Mrs. Hansel provided the music during the cocktail hour. After the dinner and social hour the guests were invited to the Antler Room where they were entertained by the Monticello Choir and G. Burton Harrison.

A gift exchange was held in connection with the party and Mrs. Gandoria announced a "risky" party to be held Jan. 5, a complete reversal of the evening's "Stroll Down Broadway," the theme of Tuesday's party. The opening and closing prayers were offered by Mrs. Dorothy Maer.

Issue of Noise Pollution Receiving Growing Public Attention

Noise causes indigestion, high blood pressure, a nervous breakdown, heart failure, insanity—even the rising divorce rate and social conflict. True or false? Not true, according to a study by the Family Economics Bureau. There is no conclusive evidence that moderate noise, normally encountered in everyday life, produces any physiological effects on the most people. It is contended. But excessive noise can be a problem.

Noise—commonly defined as any sound unwanted by the person hearing it—affects people in two ways. One is loss of or damaged hearing; the other is annoyance—from mild irritation to complete exasperation.

Decibel Scale
The most common yardstick for measuring noise is the decibel scale, which is an expression of the sound pressure on the ear. The scale begins at zero, which is the weakest sound that can be picked up by a healthy ear. Excessive noise, over a continued period of time, can cause a deterioration of the cells which transmit sound from the ear to the brain.

The Family Economics Bureau found there is no universally-accepted criterion of what constitutes excessive noise. It is currently believed, however, that daily exposure to continuous noise levels of 90 decibels or more is a health hazard.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

ous noise louder than 90 decibels will in time produce some hearing loss.

The louder the noise is over 90, the faster it will damage the ear, and the worse the damage will be.

At least half of the industrial workers in the United States risk damaged hearing, estimates the Stanford Research Institute. Audiometric studies have shown that noise-exposed factory workers usually have poorer hearing than do employees who work in a relatively quiet atmosphere.

The World Health Organization estimates that industrial noise alone costs the United States more than $4 billion annually—in accidents, absenteeism, inefficiency and compensation claims. Industries where there are risks include iron and steel making, motor vehicle production, textile and paper manufacturing, printing and publishing and heavy construction.

Annoyance Factor
Annoyance is a very personal matter and people differ greatly in their sensitivity to noise.

Noises made by neighbors and their dogs tend to be more annoying than the same noises made by members of a person's own household. People often react as if the noise is an invasion on their privacy.

Even moderate noise is capable of preventing sleep, inducing stress and interfering with concentration, communication and recreation. The human costs in sleepless nights, family squabbles and mental anguish are beyond measure.

Banging garbage cans, air conditioners operating at all hours during warm weather and power mowers that shatter the peace of a summer Sunday morning have become a way of life in urban America.

The stillness of new-fallen snow is cut by the roar of snowmobiles and snowblowers. Even isolated vacation retreats have their solitude broken by speedboats.

Modern dwellings with their light-weight construction provide very little protection from the noise bombardment from jet aircraft, traffic on streets and highways and other outside sources.

People walking and dropping shoes overhead and blaring radios and TVs generate the paper-thin walls and floors of apartment houses. Construction workers create daily bedlam with jackhammers, air compressors, earth-movers and other mechanical monsters.

Level Has Doubled
The level of everyday noise to which the average American is exposed has doubled in the last 10 years.

The din is continuing to mount, and there is no way to get out of it. The human ear, unlike the eye, has no lids and cannot be turned off, even in sleep.

Noise pollution is hardly a new evil—it bothered Julius Caesar. But until recently little has been done to combat it.

The din has increased every year, and people have just adapted to it, not realizing its effect, physically and emotionally. Perhaps if it made the ears bleed, more might have been done about it.

Not until the American public developed on the assumption that the present SST model will be used only on overwater routes.

Airport Regulations
Some airports have issued operating regulations and procedures designed to keep noise from jet planes within tolerable nighttime hours.

The Walsh-Healy Act, passed in 1938 but never strictly enforced, contains a limit of 90 decibels for an eight-hour duration per day. But this Act applies only to industries, and then only to those with government contracts in excess of $10,000.

Approval of FHA loans for new home construction within the area of airport runways and flight patterns requires that the sound level at a home be less than 100 decibels. The Federal Aviation Agency will tell anyone who asks how much of an aircraft-noise problem he will run into at a given address. Virtually all man-made noises can be suppressed. The technology exists to subdue the noise of machines and motors.

Some problems, such as the roar of the New York subway or thin apartment walls, would cost vast sums of money to correct now. But many irritating noises can be reduced at negligible cost with muffling devices.

Await National Support
Noise from present-day sources can be controlled, but there must be public support for these controls. Legislation in a few scattered places is not enough. Quiet products must have a national market.

But Americans have come to associate noise with power and seem to delight in both. Efforts to market a quieter vacuum cleaner failed because the consumer felt that with no noise there was no power, the bureau relates.

Many of the annoying noises in our lives can be reduced at no cost at all. Greater respect for the comfort and well-being of neighbors, especially during the "quiet hours," is perhaps the key to greatest progress.

Although noise is generally undesirable, a complete lack of sound is just as bad. Unusual silence or unusual sounds have served an important purpose in man's history, cautioning him to beware of dangers in his environment.

The world of the deaf is hazardous, to say nothing of being dull.

The public is finally realizing that noise is not the inevitable price of progress. Noise pollution, like air and water pollution, can be controlled, the bureau concludes.

Amvets Post 51 Observes Silver Anniversary Year

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Amvets Post 51 was celebrated during the weekend with a party at the Post Home, 5100 Lakeside Drive.

The ceremony, which included the presentation of plaques to seven of the post's 12 charter members was followed with a buffet supper and an evening of dancing. About 100 persons attended.

Chartered in 1945, the Quad-City Amvets Post 51 members had their original headquarters in the 1800 block of Delmar Avenue. The group voted to transfer its operations to the present location in 1950 and completed the move to the property on Long Lake one year later.

Post Commander William Sherman presented commemorative plaques Saturday evening to charter members Walter Padgett, Joseph Cuvar, Robert and Alvin Knackstedt, Clifford Potts, Lloyd Roussan and Charles Wilkins Jr.

Five other charter members unable to attend the silver anniversary party also will receive inscribed plaques. They are Granite City Mayor Donald Partney, Chester Jams, Russell Walker, William Tarriss and Joseph Sprajcar.

Others Honored
Also honored during the ceremony was Mrs. Martha Lengyel, a life member of Amvets Post 51 Auxiliary Unit who received a 25-year silver disc to attach to her life membership certificate and a corsage of silver tinted flowers.

The presentation to Mrs. Lengyel, a past president of the local unit and the Illinois Veterans Auxiliary, was made by Mrs. Margie Smith, Post 51 Auxiliary president.

The post home was attractively decorated for the celebration.

Make Traveling Fun With Safety Games

You can keep your children occupied and happy during holiday travels with a game of point values to each symbol.

Lowest point values are in the 50-cent common signs. Possible combinations include: reflectorized lane markings—2, reflectorized guard rail—1, reflectorized markings on guard rail—2, temporary lane markings—2.

The "Y" youth department, with its swim team, is sponsoring a membership drive with a 20-inch bicycle as the top prize.

Naval Scholarships Offered to Youths

Four-year college scholarships are being offered to high school students by the Department of the Navy in a program which would include commissions at graduation.

The scholarships include full tuition, educational fees, books, uniforms and $50 per month subsistence pay. College graduates in the program are commissioned as Navy ensigns or second lieutenants in the Marine Corps, to serve for four years.

College summers include six and eight-week training cruises to the Mediterranean, North Atlantic, Pacific or Caribbean oceans and pre-flight indoctrination at Corpus Christi, Tex., or Pensacola, Fla. All travel expenses and an additional $325 are paid.

Full information is available from high school counselors or Navy or Marine Corps recruiters.

Place a time or mile limit on each game. Break ties with a sudden death playoff—the first player to observe any safety symbol after the time limit has run out wins the game.

Announce the grand champion for the trip and distribute awards at the first meal after the conclusion of the trip. And don't forget a good sportsmanship award.

Buying Children's Books
You can count on books as gifts to provide a refreshing change of pace from a child's usual Christmas toy deluge. But selecting a good book for a child can be a difficult task. You might follow these tips:

Look for an attractive book. A young child needs a book with many pictures and few words. As the child grows older, the book can have more printing and less vivid smaller pictures.

Choose an interesting and convenient sized-book. Size intrigues a child, so buy unusual and varied sizes. Select a cloth book for a young child and progress to hard-bound books when he's old enough to learn respect for them.

Relate the book's content to the child's experiences and understanding. A child enjoys books about things he knows—friendly animals and their young, everyday living or children who speak and act as he does. Tie a book subject to a recent experience if possible. Since young children like repetition and sing-song rhythm, books of poetry make appealing gifts.

Select books that present something new to think about. A book should arouse curiosity and create an appetite for more, but don't select books that are too advanced. Short descriptions, explanations, and stories satisfy a child.

Gear the book to the child's age. Children's books usually have a statement such as "ages two to five" or carry a code number to indicate age level. Keep in mind that this is merely a guide since children mature at different rates.

Question:
What can you get 19,000 copies of for $1.00?

2 Tidal Wave Swimmers Get Top Awards at Meet

Mark Buegner and David Jolly of the Tri-Cities Area YMCA Tidal Waves swim team captured two first-place awards in the 50-yard freestyle and 25-yard butterfly swim meet which concluded Sunday at Forest Park Community College pool in St. Louis.

The Buegner youth also set a new Ozark AAU District record in one event.

Three other representatives of the local YMCA swim team earned places during the three-day meet, sponsored for the second year by the Carondelet YMCA. Twenty area teams were entered in the age group and open division contests.

Competing in the 11-12 year division, Mark Buegner, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buegner, 2128 Lindell Blvd., established the new Ozark District mark in the 50-yard breaststroke, event by breaking his own record with a time of 31.2 seconds, a full 4.8 seconds faster than his previous record.

The youth also won first place in the 100-yard breaststroke, third-place, 100-yard freestyle; fifth-place, 200-yard individual medley; and sixth place, 50-yard backstroke.

First Place Winner David Jolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jolly, 2541 Ivy Lane, earned first place medals in the 25-yard breaststroke and freestyle events and a fourth-place in the 25-yard backstroke, competing in the eight years and under division.

Rosalene Baggot, also an eight and under competitor, won five ribbons, taking two each in the 50-yard freestyle and 25-yard butterfly; and three fourth-place ribbons in the 25-yard backstroke events.

Scott Buegner, eight and under, earned a fourth-place ribbon in the 25-yard breaststroke event; and Debbie Griffin captured a six-place ribbon in the 50-yard breaststroke contest for 11-12 year olds.

Several local swimmers will return this weekend to Forest Park Community College for a specialty meet in which contestants must compete over a short and long course in each swimming stroke, plus the individual medley event. A total of nine events is required swimming for every youthful entrant in the meet, a team spokesman advised.

Mobile Museum To Feature Games By SIU Computer

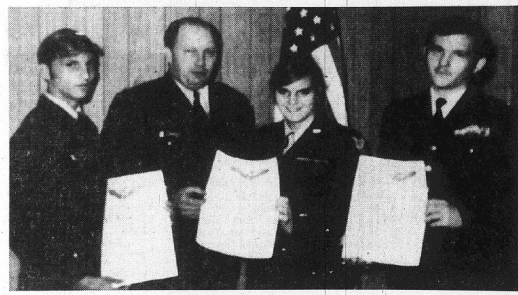

Southern Illinois school children next year will be able to play games with a million dollar computer as Southern Illinois University's mobile museum salutes the third year of the university's centennial period (1969-1974).

International Business Machines, Inc., and the General Telephone Co. of Illinois are co-operating with the SIU School of Business in installing a computer terminal in the Museum so that visitors can play competitive games between classes, schools and cities and have their scores checked instantaneously by the giant computer in Cleveland, Ohio.

The games, centering on business-type decision, are now being developed and programmed in cooperation with the School of Business faculty.

"This unique program will offer school children the fun and challenge of using the computer to communicate the information with which to make decisions and readily see the effects of decision-making," said J. W. Leggett, assistant director of the School of Business and sponsor of the proposal. "They also can see the importance of sound reasoning."

In the competitive games, the winning class, school and city will receive appropriate SIU centennial awards, he added.

State Operating Costs Cut by $1.5 Million

State operating costs have been cut by nearly $1.5 million in Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's cost reduction program, according to Budget Director John W. McCarter Jr. Emphasizing that the reductions are the result of permanent changes in state operating procedures, he said the program may save taxpayers more than $10 million by June 30, 1972.

He listed savings achieved by Bureau of the Budget employees, trained in sophisticated industrial engineering techniques, in three departments as $1,204,500 in public aid; $78,000, finance; $130,695, registration and education, plus $25,000 in the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and $38,400 in the Industrial Commission.

McCarter said the $170,000 administration cost of the program is a 4-to-1 savings-to-cost ratio, which he expects to increase to 15-to-1.

Arizona Speech and Hearing Program by Former Resident

A former Granite City resident and area elementary teacher has initiated a "Good Speech and Hearing Week" program in Phoenix, Ariz., which has received the endorsement of Arizona Governor Jack Williams.

The Governor signed a proclamation designating the week of Dec. 1 through Dec. 7 as "Good Speech and Hearing Week" on recommendations by Mrs. Clarice Elaine (Dameron) Lichtenberg, a 1952 graduate of Granite City High School.

Mrs. Lichtenberg is a former third grade teacher at the Harris School in Madison, and is formerly a speech therapist in the Washington Elementary School District in Phoenix.

Last year, she organized the first "Good Speech Week" in the state and the success of the program inspired her to organize this event.

Language Development

She is also the first in her district to start a language development program in her district in conjunction with the speech therapy classes. She was inspired by a nationwide Speech and Hearing Convention held this April in Nevada.

Mrs. Lichtenberg is an avid supporter of speech therapy programs throughout the state and gives special attention to programs for the physically handicapped.

The motto she chose for the week is "A Better World Begins With Me Through Better Communication."

A three-page paper on the theme written by her has been distributed to schools in her district and a drawing of children of all nationalities gathered around a globe bearing the motto is being worn by all teachers, administrators, bus drivers and custodians in the district to emphasize the program.

Schedule of Activities

The week's activities feature classroom talks by speech therapists, special bulletin boards, presentations of films on good speech and classroom discussions on the importance of proper speaking and communication.

Mrs. Lichtenberg attended Southwest Baptist Junior College and received her bachelor degree from Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College. She has done graduate work at the Chicago Teachers' College, Illinois State University, Arizona State University and the University of Arizona.

She is a member of the Central Arizona Speech and Hearing Society and Arizona State Speech and Hearing Association, and is a past member of the American Speech and Hearing Association.

She is niece of Mrs. Edith Rhodes of Granite City and the daughter of Mrs. Cora Dameron of Phoenix, a former Granite Cityan, and of the late Mr. Leo Dameron.

She resides with her husband, Larry Lichtenberg, an electrical engineer for the General Electric Co., and her daughter, Juliebell, seven years old.

New Bill Would Change
Primary Vote to May

Legislation would change the date of the Illinois primary election to the third Tuesday in May has been prefiled in the House at the request of State Rep. Daniel M. Pierce (D-Highland Park).

Prefiling of bills for the 1971 legislative session was begun Tuesday. The session will begin Jan. 6.

Pierce said that a primary election in May would shorten the election campaign by two months.

Prior to 1966 Illinois primary elections were held in April, but were switched to June in legislative session adopted prior to the 1966 balloting. Primary elections were held in June in 1968 and 1969, but were switched to March for the 1970 election.

Named Administrator

Mrs. Gwyneth H. Abts of Geneva, a registered dietitian, has been named food administrator for the Department of Corrections, according to Director Peter B. Bensinger. He said the new position will provide uniform practices in food purchases and ordering of kitchen and dining equipment for the department's 24 institutions and supervision of the preparation of balanced, economical meals.

Mrs. Abts has been dietary service consultant for the department's juvenile division and the Illinois Youth Commission, which preceded it, since 1968.

Farm Column

By WARREN W. BUNDY
Madison County
Adviser

Many farmers are interested and concerned about how the new Illinois antipollution agencies may affect their present operation and future plans.

Those who have not become interested are likely to be concerned in some way in the future.

The antipollution act passed by the Illinois General Assembly in 1970 sets up three different agencies under the Governor. These agencies control — municipal, industrial, and agricultural pollution.

Pollution Control Board. This five-man board appointed by the governor is charged with the responsibility of establishing all rules, standards, and regulations governing air, water, land, and noise pollution.

It also acts as a quasi-judicial body to judge complaints brought against alleged violators.

Any regulations developed to govern the handling and disposal of livestock manure must be approved by this board.

Also, complaints against violators will be considered and judged by this board.

Environmental Protection Agency. This is the surveillance and enforcement arm of the antipollution programs. This agency is to administer and police the standards set by the Pollution Control Board.

The chief of this division is C. W. Klassen, state office, Springfield.

There are seven regional offices in this division. One regional office is in Collinsville.

When required, applications for a permit to operate some livestock facilities will be submitted to this agency for approval of the waste-handling methods.

This agency will operate pollution-control monitoring devices on the major streams, investigate any complaints, and prosecute violators before the Pollution Control Board.

The agency also has authority to institute private property for possible violations.

Institute For Environmental Quality.

This institute is responsible for investigating practical problems and implementing studies and programs concerned with the problems of environmental protection.

The institute will do basic research, but will cooperate with other state and federal research agencies. It will collect and process all relevant data.

An annual conference will be held to evaluate the progress or lack of it, in achieving the environmental goals previously set.

Currently, the Pollution Control Board is active, but no new regulations have been passed yet. Until new regulations are developed and passed, all existing laws will be in effect.

The Environmental Protection Agency is presently working on a draft of regulations for livestock waste-treatment facilities. The University of Illinois Extension Service has been cooperating in the development of these proposed regulations. These will be submitted to the Pollution Board which will hold public hearings throughout the state so that all interested persons will have an opportunity to voice their opinions. The board will then adopt final rules and regulations which will be enforced by the Environmental Protection Agency.

SANTA GETS HIS ORDERS from two early callers soon after St. Nick took up occupancy at his Christmas cabin in Civic Park. Listing the gifts they hope the jolly old fellow will bring them are Barbara Winfield, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Winfield, 511 Fleming Place, and Steven Coad, 4, son of Mrs. Gail Legate, 3301 Kirkpatrick Homes.

The Environmental Protection Agency regions have been established and are functioning. Pollution from livestock wastes is only a small part of the overall set of pollution problems investigated by this group. All industries and municipal sanitary districts are also monitored by this agency.

Because the environmental Quality Act was passed recently, the Pollution Control Board has not had time to establish governing livestock wastes.

The EPA is mainly concerned with the pollution of the runoff of livestock waste into a natural water course is not allowed. Every livestock producer will need to have some logical method of returning the wastes to the land, or some other satisfactory disposal method. Also be concerned with how your operation affects your neighbors.

Hitz Memorial Home to Dedicate Addition

The Hitz Memorial Home in Alhambra will dedicate its new $200,000 thirty-five bed addition Sunday afternoon with a special dedication service to be held at Salem United Church of Christ in Alhambra at 2 p.m. followed by open house at the home.

The guest speaker for the service will be the Rev. Lawrence R. Dauderman, who grew up in Alhambra and is now administrator of Peace Memorial Home, a 200 bed home for the aged in Chicago. Also participating in the service will be the Rev. Arnold A. Bizer, local pastor and chairman of the managing committee; Dr. Robert F. Tormohlen, Illinois South Conference Minister; and the Rev. Guy J. Moyer, Holyton, Ill., who gave much of his time and effort to the establishment of the original home.

The Hitz Memorial Home is a home for the aged supported by the 95 churches in Illinois South Conference of the United Church of Christ and began its operation in October, 1952. The home as it stood originally was a gift of Mrs. Adolph Hitz, who followed a similar request from the estate of her late husband. Legacies and trust funds which have helped make the new addition possible are from the Hilda Kolb Estate, Marine; the Louise K. Barth Estate, Alton; and the George Timmerman Estate, Staunton.

Fewer Traffic Deaths Thus Far This Year

Ten per cent fewer traffic deaths were reported during the first 10 months this year than in the same period of 1969, according to Public Works Director William P. Cellini. Cellini credits the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, which emphasizes driver education programs as a major factor in the overall reduction.

Other projects in the safety program are concerned with evaluation of motor vehicle laws, studies of the influence of alcohol on traffic accidents, highway design, pedestrian and bicycle safety, traffic control devices, identification of accident locations, inventory of highway safety features, emergency medical services and police training.

Cellini said approximately $8,460,000 in federal funds, matched by state funds for state projects or local funds for local projects, have been earmarked to date for traffic safety projects in Illinois and that an additional $3,419,000 has been added for the coming year.

Christians Observing Advent Season

What is Advent? If your family observes this season, one all too little known in America, you've discovered a lovely, leisurely four-week adventure toward the true Christmas.

Here's a national antidote to frenzied December commercialism, a good way to bring your family together in new warmth and closeness and a time of calm and happy anticipation for young and old.

Advent, quite simply, is to Christmas as Lent is to Easter—a specific time for spiritual preparation. The word means "coming," a happy, expectant word.

How can a family observe Advent? Make an Advent wreath. You'll need just three ingredients: evergreens, to represent undying faith; the circle, symbolize eternity; and four candles, one for each Sunday, to signify Christ, the Light of the world.

Evergreens of any sort attached to a simple wreath shape, with four candles placed equidistant within the circle, comprise an Advent wreath.

On Nov. 29, perhaps at the evening meal, many families' youngest child lighted the first candle while the father or an older child read a short Bible passage or said a simple prayer.

You'll light the first and second candles on the following Sunday, burn those two and a third one on the third week, and on the fourth Sunday during Advent—just days before Christmas—light all four tapers at last.

The wreath occupies an honored place on living room or dining room table, a constant reminder of the passage of time and the One the family awaits.

What else might you do? Young children may want to memorize the Christmas story as told in Luke's Gospel, learning one verse a day.

Others might find short poems, prayers or quotations—"Something Jesus would like," one young boy commented—to share with the family.

Many families like to rise 15 minutes early each morning during Advent to start these busy days with devotions. Take turns reading inspirational selections aloud at the breakfast table, and your crowd may find the habit too pleasant to break.

Choose nourishing fare for the spirit... food for thought, hearty as a bowl of steaming hot oatmeal on a December morning.

As each family member waits for Jesus to come in some newer, deeper way into his life, all seem better able to express love, and a sort of creative appreciation for both the family unit and the individuals within it.

What Advent should not involve, however, is mere sentimentality, or an ethereal approach to the Divine Baby who grew up to call people to the sometimes tough and demanding, always realistic, Christian life.

Loyalty League Chapter Praised

DECEMBER 3, 1920

Mrs. Nat Brown, national president of the Children of America Loyalty League, has praised the Victory chapter of Granite City for its work during the year of maintaining a bed at the American Hospital in Paris. Since the war, there has been no local branch of the organization, the chapter disbanded at the signing of the armistice. Mrs. Brown conveyed her thanks to the children in a letter to Mayor Bert E. Hodges.

The Bay View Reading Club was entertained by Mrs. Harry Faulkner, 2433 D St. Subject of the program was "Applied Art." A paper was read by Mrs. Holtschouer on "Principles in Home Decorating," and a talk on art was presented by Mrs. T. E. Gortemmer, district chairman. Roll call was answered with names of American artists, and Victrola music was enjoyed.

Retail Merchants of the Tri-Cities, meeting at the Odd Fellows Hall, 19th and D streets, elected Thomas Rutledge as president, Herman Hoff as vice-president, and John Berger as secretary-treasurer.

Christmas Hope—That 'Tree of Lights' Once Again Will Be Fully Illuminated

One of the most pleasant of all fund campaigns is the "Tree of Lights," occurring as it does during the pre-Christmas season. Thoughts of all are attuned to giving and to the needs of others.

The drive for $10,000 annually attracts wide support, and for a number of reasons, including the absence of overhead or administrative expenses. The Christmas baskets of food, clothing and toys for those in distress provide immediate, tangible help. And duplication is avoided through the coordination of efforts by the Salvation Army, Girl Scouts, Protestant Welfare, Catholic Charities, Eagles, churches and others.

Because the need is great again this year, there is hope that the "tree of lights" in Memorial Park, Niedringhaus and Madison Avenues, once again will be colorfully, brilliantly aglow by Christmas.

Graduate of Local Nursing School New Mother Provincial of Religious Order

Congratulations are in order for Mother Mary Paul, newly elected as Mother Provincial of the Sisters of Divine Providence based at Normandy, Mo. She succeeds Mother Mary William, who has accepted duties in Rome as general counselor to the Community of the Sisters of Divine Providence.

Applause also is due Sister Mary Thomas, St. Elizabeth Hospital administrator, who was chosen as first assistant to Mother Mary Paul and a member of the Provincial Council. The new Mother Provincial, a registered nurse, is a graduate of the former St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing and has held several key positions at the local hospital, including post of associate administrator for the past five years.

While she will no longer reside here, Mother Mary Paul is the daughter of a well-known family of the St. Elizabeth Hospital governing body, which is headed by Lyle F. Gulley, vice-president of Granite City Steel Co.

Welcome News from Reilly Tar, Chemical

The 50% expansion planned at the Reilly Tar & Chemical Corp. could not have come at a better time. The plant, which has experienced decreases in profitability during the present national economic downturn, and the Reilly Tar announcement is an encouraging development in the opposite direction, indicating accelerated employment here for both construction and production.

'Politics Makes Strange Bedfellows'

Letters received here in October, urging financial and personal support of Adlai Stevenson in his bid for the White House, were signed jointly by Dan Walker, campaign chairman, and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, incumbent campaign chairman.

What makes the letters more than passing interest is that Walker has just announced his candidacy for governor, a position Simon is considered likely to seek.

"Politics, it seems, makes 1970 'bedfellows' strangers in 1972."

Words Inadequate to Describe Worsening Higher Education Fund Crisis

(St. Louis University Magazine)

The long-expected "financial crisis" in higher education has struck with such force this year that college administrators can scarcely find words strong enough to describe it.

"The day of Judgment is upon us," says one. "It is here now."

Another says the money shortage is so grave that it outranks student dissent as the main problem of the 1970s.

The situation is acute because several factors have come together at the same time.

With tuition rising almost everywhere, small private colleges seem to be in particular danger of pricing themselves out of business.

Admissions people report an accelerating shift of enrollments from such institutions to state universities and to low-cost community colleges close to students' homes.

A growing number of private institutions have had to seek state support to supplement their income from private sources and by means of endowments.

And at the established public institutions, officials say that the rise of state aid in recent years has not kept pace with their expanding needs.

Academic economists have been warning for a long time that higher education's fiscal health would depend increasingly on the amount of money it receives from the federal government.

But the growth of federal support, which averaged about 24% a year in the mid-sixties, has slowed considerably, a government agency reports.

Congressional appropriations for higher education in fiscal 1971 are up about $188 million, despite a presidential veto, but even that sum falls short of previous gains.

"We have to have that federal money," says a college official in the Midwest. "We've had a lot of promises, but not a lot of action."

Anticipating another year of trouble on the campuses, groups of college presidents and other administrators held several meetings to share ideas on how to minimize disorders and respond to student grievances.

Even as the presidents met, however, student leaders made clear that the war in Southeast Asia — more than any particular campus issue — remained at the heart of their discontent.

Students and members of the U. S. National Student Association, delegates from about 280 institutions resolved to oppose the war and by means of a "dedicated effort" to the NSA history.

Students said they would commit themselves to "massive non-violent action," including widespread civil disobedience, if the war was not ended by next May.

The view that the war and other "hot" issues were the chief reasons for campus turmoil was stressed by two special advisers to President Nixon and by many of the colleges who testified before a presidential commission on campus unrest.

But Mr. Nixon said it was "very shortsighted to blame the government for the problems of the universities."

No matter what the government does, he suggested, education will persist as a cause of student dissatisfaction.

Meanwhile, there is some new evidence that despite attempts by many colleges to give students more of a say in academic government — most institutions have yet to put students in a formal position to influence major policy decisions.

A study involving 875 institutions has shown that, in most cases, students are still not allowed to participate on faculty committees or boards of trustees.

One consequence of a tight academic job market this year may be added strength for the faculty union movement. As professors could not find work elsewhere, they may feel less inclined to accept pay cuts.

Officials of the American Federation of Teachers expect the college locals to seek contracts.

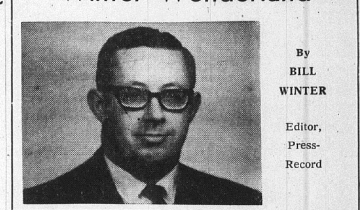

The assumption that colleges vary widely according to their region or type of control has been challenged in a study for the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education.

Academic specialization and an emphasis on more advanced degrees are making institutions "more like each other than was true in the past," said the study's author.

The refusal of a regional accrediting agency to consider a proprietary, profit-making college for membership has been sustained by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

It reversed a lower court's ruling that the refusal violated antitrust laws.

Winter Wonderland

Style, in the newspaper sense, means the custom or plan followed in spelling, capitalization, punctuation and typographic arrangement and display.

It may seem to be one of the most basic and uneventful aspects of news writing and presentation, but the subject is complicated by Americans' continually changing language usage.

It is hard to know which style to use, and it is virtually impossible to know which style to use, and it is virtually impossible to know which style to use.

DECEMBER 3, 1945

An audience of 500 attended the Victory Mothers "Hollywood Dinner" program presented at Community High School, B. E. Holt served as master-of-ceremonies and Col. LaVere of Scott Field was the main speaker. He told of Air Corps experiences.

Guest of honor was Lester Thacker of East St. Louis, who founded the Victory Mothers. Formed on Dec. 14, 1941, the organization has grown to national proportions. The Granite City chapter was formed in September.

Even though it has a war purpose—caring for wounded servicemen and women—the group plans to remain intact long after the war, because there is much work to be done in this field.

enlisted in the U. S. Merchant Marine and worked his way to New York as a butcher on a troop transport. At present, he is in the Merchant Marine Reserve after being discharged in November, and has returned to his duties at the store.

Mr. Thacker, who served in the Merchant Marine while overseas and took part in the Normandy D-Day invasion, he was overseas 19 months and was awarded two campaign stars and a bronze service arrow for his service.

Before leaving Madison in July 1943, he was elected president of the Madison Rotary Club but was unable to attend even one meeting in that capacity before leaving for Army service in Europe. He attempted twice to visit Rotary clubs, once in Scotland, but his unit left the vicinity a day before the meeting. He was unable to go to the meeting.

Professor Cited by Spanish Government

John Francis McDermott of St. Louis, research professor of humanities at SIU-SW has received his third recognition from a foreign country.

This time it is the Spanish government which has honored the professor, with membership in the Instituto de Cultura Hispanica (Spanish Cultural Institute) "in recognition of the title and merits gathered by his Excellency (McDermott) in service to the common ideals of the Spanish peoples, with all the insignias, rights and privileges thereto appertaining, confident that this contributes to the prestige of the institution."

Last April, Prof. McDermott directed a three-day conference at SIU-SW on "The Spanish in the Mississippi Valley, 1763-1804."

Papers read at the conference were published in a book entitled Travellers on the Western Frontier, edited by Prof. McDermott and published by the University of Illinois Press.

The book recreates from letters, diaries, reminiscences and books of travel the American West as it appeared to travelers who braved the trans-Mississippi frontier from its French-Spanish days through the 19th century.

He is the recipient of two of France's highest honors, Chevalier of the National Order of Merit and Les Palmes Academiques. Prof. McDermott's research and publications about the French in the Mississippi Valley extend from writing and editing Creole libraries in 1938 to "Frenchman and French Ways in the Mississippi Valley," published in 1969.

Statewide Campaign Against Shoplifting

"Shoplifting losses in Illinois amount to about $90 million a year," Hugh Muncy, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association, reported this week. "This figure, coupled with the fact that many of these thefts are the work of young people between eight and 17 years old, is cause for alarm among merchants and other community leaders."

"Stores can no longer afford to be lenient with thieves. Many stores have already stepped up their program of apprehension and prosecution."

"I'm afraid," Muncy added, "that the people who will suffer most will be the young first-time thieves."

The Illinois Retail Merchants Association—with the help of stores, educators and law enforcement officials—has developed a 16-page booklet to inform young people of the consequences of stealing from stores.

Available for Students
The booklet, entitled, "Shoplifting is a Crime," was written and illustrated for distribution to junior high and senior high school age students.

"This booklet," said Muncy, "vividly describes what can happen when a person is caught, convicted and sentenced for shoplifting."

"In addition, it gives straight answers to questions that many people, not only youngsters, have about shoplifting and the law—such questions as: 'Where can I be stopped? Who can stop me? When is the store liable?'"

Copies of the booklet, along with "Organization and Program Suggestions for Local Anti-Shoplifting Programs," are available for use by every community.

IRMA has arranged for distribution to many Chicago and suburban schools. Downstate communities working through their chamber of commerce can develop program to meet local needs.

Copies of the two color booklets are available in quantity from the Illinois Retail Merchants Association's Chicago office.

Starting a Life of Crime
"Merchants and other leaders must become aware that young people are very often beginning lives of crime in our stores."

"It is my firm belief," Muncy comments, "that one way to eliminate this problem among young people is to make them aware of the consequences."

"We cannot sit by while the loss figures rise and, the median age of the thieves drops. Programs of this nature have been extremely effective in other states and I'm sure that Illinois will prove to be no exception," he concluded.

THERE'S STILL TIME TO JOIN OUR CHRISTMAS CLUB ... SAVE NOW, HAVE A CAREFREE CHRISTMAS IN 1971. AND, IF YOU WISH, PURCHASE AN ELEGANT 10" ONEIDA SILVER PLATED SERVING TRAY FOR ONLY $3.25.

In the true spirit of Christmas it must be "more blessed to give than to receive". To encourage this philosophy we at The First National Bank in Madison would like to help a young girl or boy provide a happier Christmas for a friend or relative.

Any girl or boy (grades one through eight) is invited to write us and tell us who he would like to help... to whom he would play Santa's Helper... and why he would like to provide this person with a gift... and what the gift would be. We've put aside $100 to help you play Santa.

Write Santa's Helper, The First National Bank in Madison... or drop your letter in the Santa's Helper barrel in the lobby of our bank.

FLAMING CLASSROOMS visible from the Madison Ave. side of Granite City High School Monday evening. A jet of water being directed on the blaze by firemen is visible; also shown is a group of city officials. The fire started in the auditorium and spread to the front of the school.

DRAMATIC SCENE at Granite City High School Monday evening as firefighters began to win their battle. A snorkel vehicle is at the right and a fireman atop a fire truck is silhouetted at the left against the still burning front wall and roof. Emergency lights were in use.

'NO CLASSES TODAY' was the situation Tuesday morning, as attested to by the view of the main entrance to Granite City High School. Mud, debris and a fire hose almost blocked the front doors. The central part of the building was heavily damaged by fire Monday afternoon and evening.

ROOFLESS SCHOOL AREA at Granite City High School. The sky is visible Tuesday through windows of second-floor classrooms which burned late Monday. At the lower right is the front entrance of GCHS. Among the rooms ruined were two filled with instructional typewriters.

Paratrooper Assigned To Unit Near Qui Nhon

Private First Class John E. Stallings of Granite City has been assigned to the 503rd Infantry, 173rd Airborne Brigade, at Landing Zone Uplift, located 40 miles north of Qui Nhon, South Vietnam. He arrived overseas on Nov. 10 and was assigned to his present unit ten days later.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Stallings, 2889 Grand Ave., the serviceman is married to the former Miss Janice Marie Wieser, who lives at 3125 Myrtle Ave., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wieser.

A rifleman with Company D of the 500th Third Battalion, Pfc. Stallings, 21, entered the Army last April 24. He completed Airborne Training at Fort Benning, Ga., where he received his paratrooper badge, after previously undergoing basic training at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Pfc. Stallings is a 1967 graduate of Granite City High School. He attended Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus prior to joining the service.

Winter Driving Advice Noted by Chief Veizer

You need traction to go in rain, sleet or snow, Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer observed today.

"When we want the best possible traction aids for our emergency vehicles and for prevailing conditions, we refer back to tests conducted over the years by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards."

The Chief cited finding by the NSC committee that can be helpful to all motorists: "For stopping on ice, conventional snow tires were found to offer no advantage. Studded snow tires provided a 19% improvement, reinforced tire chains a 56% improvement over regular tires."

Loose Snow
On loose snow, however, conventional snow tires were found to be 13% better than regular tires; reinforced tire chains were 37% better.

For getting started and for keeping moving, tests disclosed that conventional snow tires provided only a small improvement on glare ice (28%). Studded tires developed about three times the pull; reinforced tire chains about seven times the pull of regular tires on ice.

On loosely packed snow, conventional snow tires provided half again as much pull; reinforced tire chains about four times the pull of regular tires.

Chief Veizer also pointed out the importance of "cornering" the ability to maintain steering. Being able to round a curve without having your wheels slide out from under you is a major, life-or-death problem.

According to the men who drive the winter test courses, traction aids (snow tires, studs and chains) are of little advantage in maintaining steering unless they're used on all four wheels—on the fronts as well as the rear wheels.

Urges Public Seek ID's of Solicitors

Two teenage youths representing themselves as collectors for the Salvation Army who were soliciting door-to-door in the Wilson Park area during the weekend, had no connection with the organization, Lt. Donald R. Noyes, local SA commander stated today.

The officer noted that Salvation Army volunteers recently were in the same area distributing the "War Cry" magazine, which may have confused persons at homes the imposters visited.

All Salvation Army collectors carry official credentials and can easily be identified, Lt. Noyes said. No one should feel any qualms about asking the person to show his or her identification, he stressed.

Christmas Concert Sunday at SIU-SW

A Christmas concert featuring three Southern Illinois University choral groups and the chamber orchestra at Southern Illinois University campus will be presented Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

The audience, which will be admitted free, will be invited to join in singing some of the Christmas hymns, according to Nancy Vang, acting choral director at the Southwestern campus.

Under the direction of Miss Vang, the Concert Chorus will sing "Ye Shall Have a Song" from The Peaceable Kingdom by R. Thompson; "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by Palestrina; "O Little Town of Bethlehem," arranged by Kenneth Jennings, and "Sing No Well, Sing Gloria" by O. C. Christensen.

The University Chorus will sing "A Babe Is Born" by Paul Bouman, "Little Lamb" by Earl George and "Glory to God in the Highest" by Thompson. Mary Callaway, a graduate assistant, will direct.

Hugo Distler's The Christmas Story, Op. 10, will be presented by the SIU Community Choral Society. Taking part will be Prof. Dale Moore of the SIU music faculty, who will be the evangelist; Larry Blossom of Virden, the angel; Lynda Daniel of Collinsville, Elizabeth; Carol Lockhart of Troy, Mary; David Morton, Edwardsville, Herod; and Jesse Harris of St. Louis, Simon.

"Lullaby on Christmas Eve" by F. M. Christensen will be sung by soprano Susan Laughlin of Collinsville.

The concert will close with Handel's Concerto Grosso in D Major, Op. 6, by the SIU Chamber Orchestra.

ARCHAEOLOGY STUDENTS dig for Indian relics at the doorstep of the new Dickson Mounds Museum near Lewistown. The site is located on the Illinois River bluffs, affording a view of extensive river flood plains.

Spoon River Valley Trail 65 Miles Long

History is everywhere in Illinois. The story of man and his changing ways is fascinating, but to really understand our present-day culture, we must look back—all the way to the Indians, who first settled our land.

Some of the oldest things in Illinois are to be found at the unusual Dickson Mounds between Lewistown and Havana at the southern end of the famous Spoon River Valley.

These spectacular and unique archaeological finds located on the Illinois River bluff line, give visitors a magnificent view of thousands of acres of river flood plain.

Few other locations could have been as attractive to the early Indians.

Preserved for Centuries This is a prehistoric Indian cemetery-mound in which burials and offerings have been left as they were many hundreds of years ago.

The full story of Dickson Mounds is told dramatically through a color slide show and commentary in the lodge shelter.

Spoon River Trail A visit to the mound should be but the beginning or end to a drive along the Spoon River trail. This is the area where the quiet Spoon River joins the Illinois River near Havana.

The quiet valley here was made famous by the Illinois poet, Edgar Lee Masters, who referred to it often in writings, such as "Spoon River Anthology" and "New Spoon River."

While the Mounds are the southern end of the trail, you may start your journey at London Mills on the north if you prefer. The lovely green hills

One of the unusual things about this development is that the bodies have been left in their original positions in the soil. This was largely the work of Dr. Don F. Dickson.

Many beautiful artifacts have been discovered, and an early village site preserved. A new museum building is currently under construction.

There are many "backroads" as you see them. The feeling is likely the same as the one which inspired Masters. The trail covers 65 miles, and veteran trail drivers claim that you will see and enjoy more if you limit your speed to about 35 miles per hour.

Back Roads, Mill Sites "There are many 'backroads' along the marked trail, and some of the hills are steep. Along the way you will see mill sites, quaint villages, interesting antique shops, historic churches and old iron bridges.

In season, you can watch residents make sorghum syrup. There are a narrow gauge railroad depot, the Rasmussen blacksmith shop in Lewistown and, of course, the Edgar Lee Masters home.

The Oak Hill cemetery of Spoon River contains the original columns between which Lincoln once spoke.

There are many places to pull over, reflect on the beauty of the land, rest and refresh yourself with a picnic. This is an area in which to unwind and let the cares of the work-a-day world go by.

Abingdon Totem Pole Not too far away, at Abingdon, is another eye stopper. This time it is "Big Daddy," the tallest totem pole east of the Rockies.

"What," you say, "a totem pole in Illinois?" Yes, the pole stands more than 83 feet tall and has a wingspan of 17 feet on the top.

The pole was carved by a 19-year-old college art student, from a redwood log imported from the Pacific northwest home of the rest of the Totem Poles.

The youth carved for 363 hours before the giant was finished . . . and all by hand with no power tools.

Gary A. Butkovich Home from Vietnam

Army Spec. 5 Gary A. Butkovich arrived home unexpectedly Monday from Vietnam where he has served the past 11 months with the 27th Assault Helicopter Co. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butkovich, 2013 Thirteenth St.

The local serviceman will spend a 30-day leave with his parents before reporting for a new assignment at Hunter Army Air Field, Savannah, Ga. Spec. 5 Butkovich, a helicopter mechanic, was based at Lai Khe, Vietnam, with the 1st Air Cavalry Division. Last Feb. 14, the soldier sustained injuries when a gun mounted on a "cop" on which he was working was accidentally triggered. Before entering the Army in March 1969, he was employed as a draftsman at Knapp-Monarch Co., St. Louis. He is a graduate of Granite City High School.

All Drivers of Motor Vehicles 'Classified'

The designation of "operator" or "chauffeur" for people who pilot motor vehicles in Illinois no longer applies. All drivers of motor vehicles are now "classified drivers."

The changeover has already affected all those who held the old chauffeurs licenses, and in 1968 for a three-year period are still valid, and will not expire until sometime in 1971. When they expire, the change will have affected all Illinois drivers.

Secretary of State John W. Lewis said the classified license system was enacted by the 1967 General Assembly to place Illinois in conformance with the Federal government's National Highway Safety Standards, and is based on the principle that each driver holds only one license which identifies the type or types of vehicles he is qualified to operate. Illinois drivers licenses now are:

Class A—Any motor vehicle through 8,000 pounds gross weight, except Class L or M.

Class B—Any motor vehicle through 16,000 pounds gross weight, except Class L or M.

Class C—Any motor vehicle except tractor semitrailer and/or trailer combination, and Class L or M.

Urban Government Group Endorses Constitution

The Illinois Commission on Urban Government last week endorsed the main package of the proposed new state constitution after a membership poll showed an overwhelming majority favored endorsement. The endorsement did not include the four separate articles, on which the commission felt it should not take a position.

Reapportionment Of County Is Nearly Complete

Reapportionment of Madison county into 29 districts on a population basis is nearing completion by the Legislative Committee of the Madison County Board of Supervisors, it was announced by Harry Briggs, Nameski Township supervisor and committee chairman.

He said boundaries have been set for 29 of the 30 districts, the maximum permitted under the new state reapportionment state governing county boards. The minimum is five.

According to the plan, one person would be elected to the county's governing board from each district, which would reduce the size of the current County Board of Supervisors from 49 to 29 members.

Briggs said the reapportionment plan was based on a county population of 235,000. The U. S. Census Bureau placed it at 246,126.

The committee is considering other reapportionment plans for consideration for the county board which must take action by July 1, with a plan to become effective May 1, 1972.

One alternative is a seven-district plan, with four supervisors to be elected from each district, which would give the county board 28 members.

Ballet to Perform

For the fourth consecutive year, the management of Bowland Lanes, 5059 Nameski Road, is offering three free games for each usable toy deposited at the local bowling facility for distribution to needy children at Christmas through the Salvation Army "Toy Shop" program.

The pre-Christmas benefit project which starts today will continue through Saturday, Dec. 19. Lt. Donald R. Noyes, local Salvation Army commander and the Bowland management reported this week.

Should all lanes be occupied by league bowlers at the time the donated toy is delivered to the facility, a gift certificate for the free games will be issued the donor, it was announced.

To Inform the Blind

The recordings, which include explanations of proposed changes, is offered in sets of three records through libraries and agencies providing rehabilitation services for the handicapped. The Constitutional Convention appropriated $3,600 to defray the cost of producing the records.

Navy to Cachet Apollo 14 Covers

Maned Spacecraft Recovery Force of the U. S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 14 manned flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for the Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Force 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make distribution to assigned recovery ships.

To permit adequate time for handling of covers, collectors should send pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator at least three weeks prior to the scheduled launch of Apollo 14. Covers should be received prior to Jan. 8.

In accordance with U.S. Postal regulations, only United States postage may be used on covers submitted. Stamps postage of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used. Cash, money orders or checks in lieu of postage cannot be accepted. It is requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 1/2 inches by 6 1/2 inches, with a filter inserted to simplify handling.

Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, each recovery force coordinator will accept a maximum of two covers from an individual collector.

When more than the authorized number of covers is received, they will be returned unprocessed. Covers received late for distribution to recovery Force units will also be returned unprocessed.

Marine in Hawaii, Men in Vietnam on Mail Listing

Two local servicemen stationed with different units at Edson Ave.

Phi Bai, Vietnam: a Granite City Marine waiting to undergo surgery in Hawaii; two sets of service brothers and a 20-year Army veteran newly-assigned to Vietnam are among the Quasi-City military personnel listed in today's "Yule Mail Listing."

Readers are reminded to clip and save "Yule Mail" lists as they are published, adding the names of the servicemen to their own mailing lists. Names and addresses will continue to be printed in the newspaper, as they become available, until Christmas week.

Local relatives, friends, church groups and service organizations are invited to submit the names of local military personnel stationed at home or overseas for inclusion in the Yule project.

Those contributing a serviceman or woman's name, rank, number and full address are asked to identify themselves on a postal card, letter or slip of paper which may be mailed or brought to the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar Ave.

20-Year Army Veteran

Sgt. L.C. John F. Jones, a 20-year veteran of Army service, was assigned to the 294th Military Police Co., at Long Binh, Vietnam, on Nov. 5.

The military policeman is married to the former Miss Pat Collins. The couple has four youngsters, Suzanne, Sandra, Shirley and Steve.

During Sgt. Jones' 12 month overseas tour, Mrs. Jones and the children will reside at Capers Cove, near Fort Hood, Tex.

On previous overseas assignments, the family has accompanied the serviceman, including two years spent in Germany and three years on Okinawa.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Sgt. Jones was employed at Granite City Steel Co. before deciding on an Army career. His mother, Mrs. Mary Jones, resides at 4033 Division St., Pontoon Beach.

Brothers Listed

Two pairs of brothers appearing in today's list include Marine Sgt. Michael Nizinski, 21, stationed in Japan with the 1st Marine Air Wing, and Pvt. Stephen Nizinski, 20, with the 1st Infantry Division at Fort Riley, Kan. They are the sons of Mrs. Melvin Durham, 2400 Edson Ave.

Mrs. Sophia Greene submitted the address of her two sons also serving in different branches of the Armed Forces. The servicemen are Seaman Joe Greene on board the USS Chicago and Airman Paul Greene assigned to Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida.

Two Men at Phi Bai

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McClure of Gary, Ind., the brother and sister-in-law of a Granite City GI in Vietnam contributed the serviceman's name in a letter to the Press-Record.

He is Spec. 5 James J. McClure based with the 28th Medical Battalion, 101st Airborne Division at Phi Bai, Vietnam.

"I know Jim would love to receive cards and letters from all his friends," Mrs. McClure said for inclusion in the Yule project.

By coincidence, a second Quasi-City serviceman, Chief Warrant Officer Gary L. Roberts, listed in today's Yule Mail Call, also is stationed at Phi Bai with a helicopter maintenance squadron.

To Undergo Surgery

Marine Lance Cpl. Robert D. (Dwain) Bridges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bridges, 3405 Franklin Ave., soon will undergo surgery at Tripler Hospital in Hawaii, according to a note from his parents.

The surgery is necessary to repair a shoulder separation that Lance Cpl. Bridges sustained while playing football as a member of the Marine Corps gridiron team at the Marine Air Station on Oahu Island, Hawaii, Mrs. Bridges said.

The lengthy recuperative period anticipated following completion of the surgery possibly will delay his discharge in February from the Corps, she added.

The Marine is a 1966 graduate of Granite City High School, where he starred as champion pole vaulter on the Warriors' track and field squad. He attended Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, Mo., before enlisting in the Marines.

YOUR Independent AGENT
SERVING YOU FIRST

The most important question to ask before you buy insurance.

Ask the man, "How many insurance companies do you represent? If he says just one - slow down. He doesn't have much choice to offer you.

Stands to reason you're better off if you buy home, car or business insurance from an agent who represents several companies. An INDEPENDENT agent. He has a choice.

That's why he can give you sound, impartial advice about which policy is best for you. And help speed a fair, fast settlement whenever you have a loss.

So you see buying insurance is really very simple. You pick the agent. Let him pick the company.

This symbol is your assurance that we are professional independent agents.

Card of Thanks 32 In Memoriam 33

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness, cards, floral offerings and messages of sympathy received from our many friends and relatives, in our sad bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, LEO DIFFEN-AUER. We especially thank the Doctors Bauer, Bowers, and Briers, Sisters and nurses in ICU.

MILDRED DIFFENAUER
AND FAMILY 32-12-3

In memory of ALFRED
THOMAS, 8088 Hodges, Thomas to the Lord and His promise we will be together again. Sadly missed by wife and family, sister and brothers.

In loving memory of husband and father, WILLIAM C. VAN
DEVER, who departed this life
Dec. 4, 1969.
This day comes with sad regret,
it is to be served by publication. One so loving, kind and true,
How hard it was to part with you.

There's many a lonely heartache,
And many a hidden tear;
But always a beautiful memory,
Of one we hold so dear.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this we wipe out never:
The memory of those happy days.

When we were all together.

Tree Roses

Tree roses require special wrapping to save the grafted top from winter kill.
Tree roses with turbans can easily survive the St. Louis area climate unless temperatures well below zero occur.
Temperatures below 10 below zero requires burying the entire plant to provide extra protection.

When the tops become frosted wrap the graft and lower portion of the branches with straw and cover with burlap. A loose wrapping like straw and burlap provides reasonable insulation as well as continuous ventilation.

Bush roses will respond to the same treatment. If you are unable to mound soil around your hybrid roses, you can protect them by piling hay, straw or leaves over the crowns.

Accent on Spring

Clumps of narcissus near your dogwood, redbud or magnolia will accent these flowering trees and extend the season of bloom.

It isn't too late in the fall to plant clumps of seven to ten bulbs near the spread of the branches. Promptly mulch your new planting with leaves or straw to insulate the soil while these new bulbs become established.
